FIRST EDITION.

REVOLUTION.

ANOTHER PROCLAMATION.

Prospects of Peace More Hopeful.

National Guard Organizing Against Insurrection.

General Chanzy Held as a Hostage.

He will be Shot if the Insurgents are Attacked.

No Change in the Situation in Montmartre and Belleville.

Germany Will Not Interfere.

Gen. Chanzy Shamefully Abused—Proclamation from Gen. Duval—The Revolutionists will Respect the Conditions of Peace—The Insurgents Easily Excited—The Excuse for the Murder of Lecomte.

PARIS, March 21.—Gen. Chanzy has been removed to the prison of La Sante. He was shamefully treated. His sister was also arrested.

The insurrectionary official journal urges the National Guards to exercise a vigilant watch for criminals attempting to re-enter Paris.

The payment of the National Guards regularly, and the distribution of alms to those in need, have been resumed.

A proclamation signed by Gen. Duval, and dated simply Paris, demands the election of a Mayor of Paris, with Deputy Mayors in all the arondissements. The proclamation says it is not the intention of the Nationals to separate Paris from France, but only from the Empire and the Government of National Defense, and from their measures of treason and cowardice, and concludes with an appeal to the people to sustain themselves as we are doing, and to follow our example in opposing oppression. The decree further postpones the maturity of commercial bills, and prohibits landlords from expelling lodgers for non-payment of rent till the issuance of a fresh order.

The insurrectionary Central Committee has decided to respect the conditions of peace, but considers it just that the largest portion of indemnity should fall upon the authors of the war.

Many of the Nationals met last night and adopted resolutions for mutual protection and maintenance.

The Siecle urges upon each battalion of the army to take possession of its own quarters, and says if this is done the rising will be promptly repressed, and probably without bloodshed.

The cabs have resumed their trips, the theaters are open, and the railway trains from Paris to Versailles run regularly.

The situation in Montmartre and Belleville, however, is unchanged. All buisiness and labor are stopped. There are frequent night alarms, tocsins and drums are sounded and cannon fired, and "the Montmartres rush to arms, fearing an attack from the sixty thousand troops at Versailles.

The official journal says the time has arrived when the common people of the capital can save the country, and appeals to the bourgeoise for support in an emergency.

The insurrectionary official journal says in extenuation of the execution of General Lecomte, that he had four times ordered his troops to fire on a crowd of inoffensive women.

Gen. Thomas, says the journal, was in plain clothes sketching the fortifications of Montmartre.

Election of a Municipal Council.

LONDON, March 21, midnight.—The latest advices from the interior of Paris are to one o'clock P. M. At that time the city was tranquil.

A placard signed by the Mayors whose signatures were appended to the manifesto of yesterday, informs the citizens that the Assembly at Versailles has voted an urgent proposal for the election of a Municipal Council, and expresses the hope that the National Guards will prevent further conflict until the final decision of the Assembly is rendered.

The National Guard Organizing Against Insurrection—Demonstration in Favor of Order.

PARIS, March 21, Evening.—All the chief battalions of the National Guard in the second arrondissement have signed a manifest joining their voices to those of the deputies, to the assembly and mayor of Paris, in a determination to defend the Republic and its tranquility against all persons. They have organized a special force, and measures for the protection of their arrondissement, and appeal for the co-operation of all in the work for concilition and abstention from crime. A similar movement is being made by other arrondissements.

There was a demonstration in the streets to-day in favor of the union of all men of order. The demonstrators proceeded to the insurgent headquarters, but found their passage barred by bayonets. An angry altercation ensued, after which they retired, but the movement has a tendency to spread.

Thiers has sent Glais Bizain as delegate on the part of the government to endeavor to conciliate the insurgents. The prospects for peace now seems more hopeful. The Mayors of Paris refuse to give their concurrence to the holding of elections on Wednesday.

In the Assembly.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—The National Assembly has approved a proclamation condemning the criminal attempts of a few mad men to involve France in ruin and dishonor, which are repudiated by the whole country. It appeals to the troops and citizens to rally and save the noble Republic. The Assembly has also declared an urgent bill abrogating the decree suppressing Councils General. Picard announced in the Assembly that all functionaries of departments have offered to the Assembly armed support. It was announced that the Government will present to the Assembly on Wednesday a bill providing for an election in the municipalities. Schoelcher reported that he had visited Paris, but failed to obtain the release of General Chanzy. Admiral Soisset, in some remarks, gave the details of the arrangements of the insurgents, who, he said, hold General Chanzy as a hostage, and will shoot him if they are attacked.

Cities and Towns Support the Government.

LONDON, March 22.—A dispatch from Rouen says the Germans have celebrated their victories there in quietness.

A large number of French cities and towns have adopted and forwarded to Marseilles resolutions protesting against the revolution, and proclaiming their adherence to the government.

Fortifications Occupied by the National Guards.

PARIS, March 22.—The National Guards search all trains leaving Paris and stop the egress of all military personages. The Nationals now hold and have occupied all the fortifications on the West of Paris.

The Government Will Not Declare War Againt the Insurgents.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—In the French National Assembly to-day, M. Thiers gave expression of the thanks of the Government and Republic to Deputies Picard, Clemenceau and Schoelcher for the courage displayed by them in meeting the Paris Insurgents. Thiers also announced that the Government would not declare war against the insurgents unless instructed to do so by the Assembly.

English Subjects in Paris to be Protected.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons to-night Viscount Enfield stated that Lord Lyons had been instructed to accompany the French Government to Versailles, and that every arrangement had been made to protect the life and property of British subjects in Paris.

CONDITION OF FRANCE.

The Great War Debt—Miseries Likely to Result—Europe's Danger.

The London Spectator gives a vivid picture of the condition of France, the miseries likely to be inflicted upon that country by the enormous war indemnity, and the danger to Europe in consequence: The Germans demand £200,000,000 in cash, or its equivalents, payable within three years; and as France is powerless, and the money not absolutely beyond the range of possible collection, Germany must have it; but just see what the exaction means. It means, if the money is taken in Rentes, a payment of a thousand millions per century by France to the German army. Nations do not die, and as the money must be borrowed, its interest will be payable by unborn generations; or if it is taken in cash, it means that the single effectual restraint upon the ambition of Generals, the pecuniary difficulties entailed by war is, as far as Germany is concerned, removed forever.

The danger to Europe from this indemnity seems to us grave, but, of course, it is less than the danger to France herself. The money can be procured, we believe, and procured within two years, partly by borrowing on the credit of the State, and partly by straining the resources of the cities and communes, but it must form in the end an addition to the national debt of France. The debt is already £690,000,000, the indemnity equivalent to £400,000,000 more—the money being raised at about 50—and something must be done to alleviate the distress of the occupied departments and to compensate the sufferers. There will be a heavy failure in the payment of taxes, aggravated, probably, by the imposition of protective duties; there is a German army to be maintained in Champagne, and there are the fortifications of Paris and the great military centers like Chalons to be made perfect. France will be fortunate if in 1874, when the indemnity is paid, she has a debt of less than £1,200,000,000 sterling, a mortgage of less than £56,000,000 a year upon her industry. That is equivalent to a mortgage of £5 10s a year on every household in the country, or in other and clearer words, a hypothecation of six weeks' labor a year, to pay the interest on the debt. Some of this burden may, no doubt, be shifted from the poor on to the rich; but an income tax is in France a detested expedient, and the new Finance Minister, M. Pouyer Quertier, looks to excessive tariffs as his best resource.

That France may recover we do not doubt, but for twenty years she will be exposed to all the disorders which heavy taxes, constant deficits, and revolutionary finance experiments bring in their train. The Germans think that therefore she will be weak, but their own strength began with their financial ruin, and it is by no means improbable that social difficulties may now, as in 1798, tend to make the French nation an army, with military life the only career, generalship the only road to power, and revenge the only aspiration. It is not the fat Frenchman who fights best, but the Frenchman who is miserable.

MANOR STATION.

An Aged German Run Over by the Johnstown Accommodation and Seriously Injured.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MANOR STATION, March 22, 1871.

A German named Francis Brown, aged sixty-two, was struck by the Johnstown accommodation East this evening, between Manor and Shafton, on the Pennsylvania Railroad. One leg was badly crushed, and he was otherwise injured. He was brought to Manor and placed in Klingensmith's Hotel. A physician and surgeon are with him, and both regard his case as doubtful. He says his home is in Harmony, Pa., and that he has a daughter married to John Swimmer, residing on Second street, Pittsburgh.

STATE LEGISLATURES.

North Carolina.

RALEIGH, March 22.—The Senate, sitting as a High Court of Impeachment to-day, voted on eight articles preferred by the House against Governor Holden, and convicted him by more than a two-thirds vote on all except the first two. An order was then passed removing Holden from office, and disqualifying him from holding any office of honor or profit in the State. On this order the vote stood thirty-six affirmatives and thirteen in the negative, all the Senators present except one. The complexion of the Senate is thirty-six Conservatives and fourteen Republicans. One Republican was absent, Mr. Flythe, of Northampton.

WEST END AVENUE—CARD FROM SENATOR GRAHAM.

HARRISBURG, PA., February 22, 1871.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I notice a communication in your issue of this morning, signed "Kilbuck," which charges me with introducing and having passed one or two readings "An act for the improvement of West End avenue, in the county of Allegheny," and asserts that the bill was gotten up without consultation with persons interested, and that during the time of its preparation, and long after it had been introduced, no copy was sent to the people for information, and not until Senator Anderson takes upon himself to say that the people should be heard before it passed, does a copy reach anybody, and then but one copy." Allow me to say, in reply to "Kilbuck," that I don't know how or by whom the bill was prepared. It was sent to me by A. W. Watson, Esq. I read it in place, had it referred to a committee, and as soon as it was printed I sent out a large number of copies to persons owning property along the line of the road. In fact, I sent every printed copy of the bill except one, and that copy I believe Mr. Anderson sent to N. W. Shaffer & Co., and I requested him to say to Mr. Shaffer that no action would be had on the bill until all who were interested in it should have time to understand it thoroughly and be heard from.

THE OIL REGIONS.

THE ARMSTRONG RUN FIELD

Wells Down and Wells Drilling—The Revival at Pithole—Matters About Rouseville—Items from Other Quarters.

THE ARMSTRONG OIL FIELD.

The East Brady Independent of Saturday gives the following resume of affairs in the Armstrong Run, region:

Many new wells are on the verge of striking at this place, and the excitement is daily increasing. Traveling is becoming more frequent and great anxiety is manifest. Should these wells prove good ones, even partially as good as those now producing, the territory will be the largest and best now existing.

There are four producing wells at Armstrong viz: the Jennings Bros., the Reserve, James No. 1 and No. 2.

The amount of oil shipped over the pipe line for the month of February, was 4,600 barrels. The average production of oil for the month of February was 164 barrels and nine gallons per day. The James well No. 1, has 400 barrels of oil on hand. The James No. 2, has 450 barrels in tank.

There are between twenty and thirty drilling wells at Armstrong.

The Clark Farm Company well No. 1, has struck the boulder laying just above the oil, and will be down this week.

The Wilson well is on the verge of striking. Its present depth is 1,240 feet. It will have to be drilled to the depth of 1,275 feet.

The Edward Swan well, owned almost entirely by Edward Swan, the driller of the old Armstrong well, has made very fast drilling. Deducting 15 days lost time, the well has actually been drilling but 39 days and it is down 1,075 feet.

The Deely well, including breakages and everything, has made very fast time. It is down 1,200 feet.

Well No. 4, Meldren farm, began drilling August 17, 1870. It will be down in a few days. It has been stopped a great deal, and has had very bad luck. Depth 1,240 feet.

The Robert Wallace well will be down in a few days. It is now 1,250 feet.

The Fundenburg well, for a week back, has been drilling on steel. It is down 600 feet.

Following are the names, date of beginning, and depth of wells in progress:

Name.	Date.	Depth, feet.
The Harris Well	Nov. 4, 1870	1,125
Johnstown No. 1	Dec. 8, 1870	1,100

The Templeton & Foster well, between fishing for lost tools and drawing casing, has done no drilling for three weeks. It will again be in motion this week. Depth 825.

Leases No. 1, 2, 3 and 4, of the Armstrong Oil Company's track, are to be operated on. No. 4 is to be commenced immediately. Haines & Andrews have taken a half of Nos. 1, 2, and 3, and a fourth of No. 4.

PITHOLE.

Just at present there is considerable excitement in oil developments in the region of Pithole, and operators are attracted to that locality by the many recent strikes, which have proved in nearly every instance to be paying investments. The Petroleum Center Record gives the following details of the number of wells producing and going down on farms in that locality: "There are now seven wells pumping on the McKinney farm, at Pithole, and six on the Morey farm. Three new wells are going down on the McKinney farm, and one old well is about to be started up. The pumping wells average from six to ten barrels per day each. On the Hiner farm, near Adamsville, No. 1 is pumping five barrels daily, and No. 2, twenty barrels. On the Haskell & Co. lease, Rooker farm No. 1 continues to yield eighty barrels per day; No. 2, same lease, is nearly ready to test and has a splendid show. It is now 800 feet deep and has between thirty and forty feet of third sand rock. Phillips Bros., Fisher Bros., and other parties, have several new rigs up, in addition to the wells already started by them. Good reports are expected from the oil territory in that vicinity soon."

The Record of Saturday says: By a dispatch from Pithole, we learn that well No. 2, Haskell & Rhodes's lease, Rooker farm, commenced testing day before yesterday, and is now yielding between fifty and sixty barrels of oil daily. As we predicted the Pithole oil field bids fair to again come into notoriety as of old.

Another new well is just being tested by Rhodes & Haskell, which promises as large a yield as their other, now producing eighty-two barrels per day. This well has clearly demonstrated to the doubting that an entire new vein of oil has been defined, running in a southeasterly direction, with a better quality of sand and freer from water than any we have yet obtained.

Well No. 1, Philips Bros. lease, James Rooker farm, was tubed on Saturday and commenced to pump at five o'clock P. M., starting off at the rate of 25 barrels per day, and has since increased to 40 barrels per day. The well is 890 feet deep, and has 26 feet of third or oil bearing sand-rock; also, has a strong volume of gas. These parties have another well on the same lease that will probably strike the sand to-morrow, and commence pumping by Wednesday next. This is the third large producing well struck in Pithole within the past six weeks. No. 1, Haskell & Rhodes's lease, same farm, continues to yield between 70 and 80 barrels of green oil per day; No. 2, same lease, struck last week, is yielding between fifty and sixty barrels per day. The prospects in that locality are very flattering. Quite a number of our citizens are interested in the Pithole territory, and we shall endeavor to keep our readers posted as fast developments progress.

ROUSEVILLE.

A letter from Rouseville to the Titusville Courier has the following oil items:

The striking of a five barrel well on the McFate Farm, Cherry Run, the other day, is exciting considerable interest among neighboring operators, from the fact that it is located on a tract of territory heretofore deemed valueless.

Messrs. Tarbell & Hess, well-known as extensive and successful operators, are drilling three new wells on their Shaw farm property, in comfortable proximity to the recent hundred-barrel well strike in that productive section of Oildom.

Several new wells are to be put down at Walnut Bend immediately. Thus far the territory in that vicinity has not proved remarkably permanent, the best wells continuing to produce in paying quantities only a comparatively brief period, somewhat after the fashion of Pleasantville.

A company of enterprising ladies have secured a thirty acre lease near Utica, four miles above Sugar Creek, on which they intend putting down a test well without delay. May lots of good luck and big streams of green petroleum attend the efforts of this spirited fraternity of lady operators.

The production of the once renowned McCray farm is reported to be falling off very rapidly, the largest wells having fizzled down to small affairs of some dozen-barrel magnitude.

A new well on the H. McClintock farm, above Rouseville, owned by Mr. Robert Orr, and tubed Wednesday, is pumping about ten barrels. Two or three others will be finished this week, at least one of which—judging from present indications—is almost certain to pay handsomely. The owners are Messrs. George Masters and Charles Bunce, gentlemen who richly deserve a half dozen wells of first-class proportions.

Various parties are preparing to commence active operations on the Wilson farm, near Plumer, the striking of a six or eight barrel well some weeks ago inducing the belief that the adjacent territory will rank above the average. As is quite natural under the circumstances, the good folks of Plumer indulge in pleasant anticipations of a brilliant future awaiting their rather deserted looking hamlet.

Since Sunday three new wells have been completed on the Mitchell (formerly R. L. Shaw,) farm, which are now yielding forty-five, twenty and fifteen barrels respectively, with favorable prospects of a large increase. Another will be tubed to-morrow, and two others are being drilled. Evidently the Mitchell is destined long to maintain its enviable reputation as one of the most profitable farms in the entire oil region. "So mote it be!"

CONGRESS.

Anthony's Resolution Finally Passed

Only the Ku-Klux and Appropriation Bills to be Acted Upon at this Session.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22, 1871.

The Senate.

The proceedings to-day in the Senate were unusually interesting, and conclusively demonstrated that the majority of that body are determined to carry out the caucus programme with regard to the legislation to be disposed of the present session. The advocates of free coal and salt, of the abolition of the income tax, of general political amnesty, and several other miscellaneous subjects, made a gallant fight to break through Anthony's iron-clad caucus resolution, but without avail. The supporters of that proposition intrenched themselves behind caucus obligations and agreements, and were victorious at every point. The first fight was made upon the last clause in the caucus resolution, which was offered several days ago as an amendment by Mr. Sherman, and which provided that the Judiciary Committee should report a Ku-Klux bill the present session. Mr. Trumbull took this occasion to state that it was no violation of legislative secrecy that it would be utterly impossible for the Judiciary Committee to comply with this request. The members thereof had already had this subject under consideration, and there was not nor could there be any unanimity of action. The only report which the committee could possibly make would be to declare that it could not agree upon the matter at all, and here was opened the Ku-Klux topic again, the debate on which lasted an hour, and which was participated in by Morton, Frelinghuysen and Pool in support of the amendment, and Thurman and Blair in the negative. Morton took the ground that to vote down the amendment would be a confession to the country of the weakness of the Government, which would thus assert to the world that it could not protect its own citizens. Frelinghuysen and Pool were of the same opinion.

Thurman, who prefaced his remarks by stating that no man deprecated more than himself the existence of trouble in the South, took the ground that there were already sufficient laws on the statute books to remedy all these grievances if they were only enforced, and that any further legislation would only be surplusage. Blair desired the Senate to wait until the newly appointed investigating committee should be heard from, and not proceed to sit in judgment before the evidence was forthcoming.

After more discussion of this character a vote was taken on the amendment, the yeas and nays being ordered, which was adopted by 28 to 18.

Mr. Thurman then moved to lay the resolution, as amended, on the table, which was lost by 38 to 13, the action of the Republican caucus being thus fairly indorsed by the Senate.

Mr. Trumbull endeavored to get in as subjects, which should be acted upon before adjournment, the House bills putting coal and salt on the free list. On the motion of the Senator from Illinois, the tariff men became exceedingly facetious. Hamilton, of Maryland, sent up to be read an amendment, abolishing the present tariff altogether, and Morrell, of Vermont, followed suit with a proposition that no State or country should receive the benefit of removing the present restrictions, unless they first expressed a willingness to become annexed to the United States. There was more filibustering of this sort from several Senators, each time a yea and nay vote being ordered with an unfavorable result. Vickers submitted an amendment adding tea and coffee to the free list, which was adopted by 30 to 18, Garrett Davis and the new Democratic Senator from Oregon voting in the affirmative. Then Davis, of West Virginia, added sugar, which was also adopted by 32 to 17.

At this point it became very evident that the Democratic Senators from Maryland and West Virginia were working with the high tariff Republicans to prevent the caucus agreement from being violated. Casserly offered an amendment to include all bills to abolish the income tax, on which the yeas and nays were ordered. This vote resulted in a tie, 27 to 27, when Speaker Colfax gave the casting vote in the negative. After Trumbull's original amendment had been thus landed down, the yeas and nays were ordered on its final adoption, when it was lost by 33 to 23. Several Republicans, as Hill, Conkling and Robertson, who had dodged voting all day, when the test finally came, declined voting on the ground that while they were in favor of some of the amendments, yet they considered themselves bound by their obligations to the caucus in its limitations upon the subjects which the present Congress should legislate upon.

The House.

The new Democratic members from New Hampshire were called up and sworn in immediately after the reading of the journal to-day. The session was not marked by any exciting features. Mr. Farnsworth offered a concurrent resolution for adjournment on Friday, but the speaker overruled it. A memorial from the Free Trade League was presented, protesting against removing the duties from tea and coffee, but praying Congress to abolish the duties which keep up "grievous monopolies"—this being a blow at the iron, steel and other great industries. The House adjourned about half past one.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CANAL.

The Title to the Land Formerly Occupied and Used as a Canal Vested in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The case of the heirs of General William Robinson vs. the Pennsylvania and West Penn Railroad Company, which has been on trial in the District Court of this county for over a week past, was concluded yesterday, as will be seen from our report of the Court proceedings. The case is one of more than usual interest, not on account of the value of the property immediately involved, but from the fact of its being a test case, by which to a great extent will be determined in whom the title for the land formerly occupied by the State as a canal, and known as the Pennsylvania Canal, which after the canal was abandoned was sold to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is vested. Since the rights, privileges and franchises of the canal was transferred by the State to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the general impression has obtained that the State never had more than an easement in the land; that it was never held in fee simple; that the title to the soil never passed out of the original owner's hands, and is still vested in them or their heirs, that the right to use the land for a certain purposes only vested in the State, and that when the property ceased to be used for the purposes for which it was granted it reverted to the grantor. It appears, however, that in a decision of the Supreme Court in a case in which this question arose it is held that under the releases granting the right of way to the State for the canal the title to the land in fee simple become vested in the State, and as the Railroad Company claims under a deed or deeds from the State the title is now vested in them.

HISTORY OF THE CASE.

It appears that after the passage of the act of Assembly in 1826, providing for the construction of the Pennsylvania Canal, General Robinson ceded to the Commonwealth the lands necessarily occupied by the canal, excepting therefrom ground for a basin. Subsequent to this grant, an act was passed providing that all persons having claims against the State for damages for lands entered upon and taken in the construction of the canal, or for any other cause arising out of the construction of the same should go into the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper county, and ask for the appointment of viewers to appraise said property and assess the damages within one year after the completion of the work on said canal, otherwise such claim should be void. The State, it appears, entered upon the property of Mr. Robinson, now in dispute, and constructed a basin, and although an exception had been made in the grant as to land for a basin, yet there never was any application made for the appointment of viewers to assess damages. Some years since the canal was abandoned and sold to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Said company, by and through the West Pennsylvania Railroad Company, entered upon and has since held possession of said basin lot, for the recovery of the possession of which this suit was brought. Messrs. Acheson and Burgwin appeared for the plaintiffs, and John H. Hampton, Esq., for the defendant. The case was ably tried on both sides, and occupied the time of the court, as above stated, for over a week.

POINTS SUBMITTED BY PLAINTIFFS.

A number of points were submitted on both sides, the substance of which we give as follows:

The plaintiffs submitted a number of points of which we give the substance: First, that the continued use and occupation of the land for the purpose of a canal under the release given would not vest the title in the State; and second, that the continued occupation by the State of the canal, basin without any conveyance or judicial proceedings to divest, the title of Robinson would not vest in the State more than an easement or servitude over the same for the purpose of a basin leaving the right of sale in the original owner; third; that if the State began its occupation and use of the canal basin under the release and with the consent of Robinson, such occupation would not be a hostile possession, such as to give title by twenty-one years adverse possession. These points were affirmed. The fourth and fifth points of plaintiffs were refused.

DEFENDANTS' POINTS.

The following is the substance of the points submitted by defendant's counsel:

1. That under the release referred to, an absolute estate in fee simple passed to the State, in the land owned by plaintiff taken and used permanently by the Commonwealth in constructing the canal through the premises in controversy, and if the jury find that the said canal passed through and was constructed upon said premises, the defendants claiming title under the State, the verdict should be for defendants. Affirmed.

2. That if the jury believe, from the evidence, that the ground described as a "basin" was the property of Wm. Robinson, Jr., at the time the canal was constructed through his premises, and that the canal and basin were dug and excavated about the same time, and the ground taken was used permanently in connection with said canal, and that Wm. Robinson, Jr., did not, within one year after the taking of the ground for said basin and the construction of the same, make application to the Court of Quarter Session of Allegheny county, under the eighth section of the act of April 9, 1827, for the appointment of viewers and the assessment of damages resulting to him by the taking of said ground for a basin, &c. that the plaintiff cannot recover and the verdict should be for defendants. Affirmed.

The substance of the third point was that if the jury find that the ground discribed as a basin was only a widening of and part of the canal, where it turned toward the river, that under the release given to the Commonwealth the title in fee to said ground passed to the Commonwealth, and under deeds from the same became vested in the defendant, the verdict should be for the defendant. Affirmed.

The jury, after a brief absence, rendered a verdict for defendants.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

GOV. STEVENSON, of West Virginia, will likely remain in the city the remainder of this week.

THE number of inebriates before Mayor Brush yesterday morning was twenty-two.

ELLEN CARROLL was charged before Alderman Taylor yesterday, on oath of William Megraw, with the larceny of $20. A warrant was issued.

A WARRANT was issued by Alderman Nichols for the arrest of Frank Bell, who was charged on the oath of Isaac Webb with assault and battery.

THE Seventh ward schools closed yesterday out of respect to Mr. David Chambers, a member of the Board of Directors, whose son was buried yesterday.

OFFICERS RUCH and Rivers last evening arrested a young man, a habitual drunkard, on complaint of his father, and to-day Mayor Brush will send him to the Work House.

WE are reliably informed that the identical hatchet with which George Washington smote the cherry tree has been resurrected in some quarter, is now in the Niagara Engine House, Penn street, and is to be awarded to the gentleman telling the biggest lie.

JOSEPH DICKSON made information before Alderman Herron yesterday, charging Henry Fenton with obtaining money under false pretenses. He alleges that Fenton agreed to repair a sewing machine, for which he received the pay and then refused to do the work. A warrant was issued.

WE learned last evening of a report to the effect that a well known Wood street merchant had slapped the face of a real estate agent on Fourth avenue. It seems, from what our informant could gather, that words derogatory to the character of the aforesaid Wood street merchant had been uttered by the real estate agent, and the merchant noticing him passing along Fourth avenue, on the opposite side of the street, called him, did as above related, and told him never to walk on the same side of the street with him again. We give the report for what it is worth.

MICHAEL MAHER keeps an establishment in Lawrenceville, where George Hart procured his hash for a number of weeks and for which he neglected to pay. Maher presented his bill and George took offense, quit the premises and threw boulders at the door. Alderman Nichols issued a warrant for George.

INFORMATION was made before Alderman Strain, yesterday, by J. H. Coleman, who, it will be remembered, was charged with stealing sixty-one sheep, on oath of Mr. Cartwell, of Ohio, against Cartwell for felonious assault. He alleges that Cartwell drew a revolver on him. A warrant was issued.

THE Rt. Rev. J. B. Kerfoot, D. D., the Bishop of this Diocese, will (D. V.) administer the apostolic rite of Confirmation in Trinity Church, New Castle, on Sunday morning next, the 26th inst. (the fifth Sunday in Lent). The bishop will also preach in the evening. Services at 11 A. M. and 7½ P. M.

MRS. SOLLINGER, of Oil City, arrived in this city yesterday morning, and called upon Coroner West, to obtain information relative to the body "found drowned" a few days since in the Allegheny river above Sharpsburg. From the description given of the body, she expressed herself positive that it was her son, Andrew Sollinger, who was drowned near Oil City, on the fifth of December. The body will be disintered and removed to Oil City for burial.

AN alleged defaulter, named Stafford J. Smith, has been the assumed cause of a suit against himself, and Augustus Woolbaum as co-defendants, by the Pittsburgh National Coal and Coke Company. It seems that Smith was appointed agent for the above company in Chicago, and that he could not account satisfactorily for about $2,000, whereupon this suit was begun in the Superior Court in that city. The co-defendants signed Smith's indemnity bond.

THE seventh monthly examination of Ayers's Latin School will be held to-morrow (Friday), commencing at nine o'clock A. M. Examining Committee—James King, M. D., H. Brady Wilkins, Esq., Josiah King, David Robinson, Prof. R. J. Costar, William Neeb, W. K. Jennings, Esq., Beverly Jones, Esq., and J. O. Rea. Rank for the month read. Prizes given in Latin Arithmetic, Geography and Penmanship. Friends and patrons are cordially invited to attend. The session re-opens on Monday, April 10.

MAJOR SAMUEL COOPER, of Saltsburgh Pennsylvania, a soldier of the war of 1812, and the only surviving Captain that was connected with the Fourth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. John Purviance commanding, will arrive in the city on Thursday, 23d inst., and remain until Saturday 25th inst. If there are any old soldiers in the city that belonged to that Regiment and who desire to avail themselves of his services as a witness in making applications for pensions under the recent act of Congress, they can find him by calling at the store of D. S. Chesnut & Co., 335 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

JULIA FITZGERALD, released from jail on Tuesday, was before His Honor Mayor Brush bright and early yesterday morning, and, as usual, was ordered to stand committed for thirty days. Now, Julia was incensed at the uneven-handed justice, and having armed herself with a lump of coal, first located a bee line to the Mayor's head, and then sent the missile flying in the same direction. The result was the Mayor's forehead was slightly indented. But Julia did not escape punishment. Kate Raney, who was also awaiting justice, displayed her respect for the Mayor by immediately catching hold of her and smacking her mouth well, and would not have ceased soon, from the aspect of things, had not she been released.

A RIDICULOUS error crept into our report of the proceedings at the annual meeting of the Allegheny Valley railroad, on Tuesday, as our synopsis of the report of the Chief Engineer read, it condemned the Oil Creek and Allegheny River railway, when in truth and fact, as the engineer informs us, it was only the old track which had been surrendered to the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, extending from the intersection of the Allegheny Valley railroad with the Oil Creek and Allegheny River road above the river bridge, down to their depot—less than half a mile in distance, which was in bad condition. The report had no reference to the Oil Creek and Allegheny River road, and its general very good condition. We make this correction in justice to a very worthy officer, Capt. H. Blackstone.

LOCAL POLITICS IN 1830.

Gleanings from an Old Anti-Masonic Paper.

As several of the daily papers are devoting some space to historical sketches of the olden time, it may not be out of place to glean a few facts of a political nature from a copy of the Anti-Masonic Examiner, published in this city under date of "Saturday, August 14, 1830," by Edward Simpson, editor. The copy which we have is No. 47 of Volume 1, and the office was located at "No. 29 Fourth street, a few doors below market, nearly opposite Lambdin's Museum." The name of the paper indicates the purpose of its publication. How long it lived we cannot tell; but it came upon the stage at a time when the Anti-Masonic excitement was rife all through the State, and when forty-seven papers in Pennsylvania were enlisted in the cause. It was a new era in politics, when the terms Democrat and Federalist began to be superceded by Masonic and Anti-Masonic. The hostility to Masonry which originated in New York immediately after the mysterious disappearance of Morgan, in 1826, soon spread into this State, and for a number of years was a dividing line in party politics. From the paper before us we find that there was a regularly nominated

ANTI-MASONIC TICKET

in Allegheny county, for the campaign of 1830, as follows: Congress, Harmar Denny and William Ayres; Assembly, William Hays, James Logan, John Scott and James C. Gilleland; Commissioner, William Arthurs; Auditor, John W. Young. These men are all off the stage of action, but there are descendants of most of them still in the county, filling honorable positions in society. The estimable widow of the Hon. Harmar Denny still survives. William Hays, whose name heads the Assembly ticket, was [illegible] and social circles. It was the custom at that day to publish brief sketches of the candidates, showing their character and qualifications—a custom which still prevails; but in the canvass of 1830 that duty was not left to the editors of the papers, as now, but was entrusted to a committee appointed by the county convention for that purpose. In the number of the paper from which we quote, we have an address

TO THE FREE VOTERS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY,

published over the signatures of the committee composed of Messrs. B. Darlington, D. McKee, John Gilfillan, Andrew Bayne, Robert Carothers, Andrew Watson, John Riddle, John Kiddoo, B. Dilworth, Wm. McCullough, C. Darrah, Joseph Jones and Francis Kearns. After setting forth the principles and objects of the party, the committee speak of the candidates in terms of modest praise. Mr. Denny they characterize as "the advocate of universal suffrage, religious toleration, and liberty of conscience." His (then) past services in the State Legislature and in Congress are also spoken of. General Ayres, of Butler county, is "an able and sound jurist—a man of honor and integrity—a friend to the tariff and internal improvements." William Hays was an "exemplary mechanic, long and well known throughout the county; highly esteemed for sound judgement and strict integrity; and truly a working man, who has brought up his sons to his own trade." John Scott, a farmer of Ross township, was "a man of prepossessing and promising talents—a zealous, intelligent, and decided advocate of the great cause of equal rights." To the honor of James Logan, of Plum township, it is said "he was the first candidate in the county who avowed his Anti-Masonry." Of Mr. Gilleland it is said that "he was nominated at the second meeting of the Anti-Masonic convention, in consequence of Mr. Kerr's attempt to compromise with both parties for the support of both, by which he showed himself unworthy of the confidence of either. He (Gilleland) had served three sessions in the Legislature, during two of which he was Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. Of the candidates for Commissioner and Auditor, the committee merely say that "they are both mechanics, well known to the people, and will doubtless being their share of support to this well chosen ticket."

SOMETHING ABOUT THE OPPOSITION.

In another part of the paper we find a short editorial, from which we learn that there was a "Workingmen's Party" in the field. Gen. Stewart was the candidate for Congress, and the editor "goes for" him and others in this way:

"We declare our determination to oppose, as well as we may, the election of any man who owes his nomination to such a party as that misnamed the 'Working Men's Party.' Our opposition to all candidates in any way, however remotely, connected with Masonry and Masons, is equal, no matter in what way they may have been brought before the people. To the election of Walter Forward and John B. Shannon we are hostile, because they are Masons and the candidates of Masons. To that of John Gilmore (the Indian prosecutor), and James Patterson, we are equally hostile, because we believe them to be staunch Jacks if not Masons; certain it is we have no evidence of their attachment to Anti-Masonry. And lastly, we are equally opposed to Gen. Stewart's election, not that we in the least fear it, but because of the principles we are contending for, and to which as a Royal Arch Mason, he is necessarily opposed. So if it be true that the General has made up his mind to travel over the October course, we have made up our mind to oppose his progress tooth and nail."

The Anti-Masons, we believe, carried that election, but the excitement gradually subsided, and the party a few years later went to smash.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Collier.

In the case of the commonwealth vs. Peter Poland, indicted for an infamous offense against the laws of God and man, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

David Christy, indicted for forni. et. cet., on oath of Catherine Knipers, entered a plea of nolo contendere. Sentence deferred.

James Duffy, indicted for a misdemeanor under the act of August 23, 1865, for the protection of livery men, entered a plea of guilty.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. John Murphy, indicted for highway robbery on oath of George Leitz. It appears that on the night of June 1st, 1871, that Murphy and Leitz were together in a saloon in the Second ward, and sometime during the night Leitz was robbed of a pocket book containing $68 and a pair of gloves while passing through Strawberry alley. Murphy was afterwards arrested and the articles found upon his person. The defendant alleges that he took the pocket book from Leitz because he was drunk, and it appears that he did voluntarily return the money. Jury out.

James Scott was next placed upon trial on an indictment for assault and battery. The case is on trial.

The constables of Allentown, Birmingham, Millvale, and the townships of Elizabeth, Mifflin, Lower St. Clair, North Versailles, South Versailles, Shaler and Wilkins, will be heard on their returns before the grand jury at 9:30 A. M. this morning.

The entertainment of the season will be the grand juvenile fancy dress exhibition, to be given at Lafayette Hall, to-morrow (Thursday) evening, March 23, 1871, by Professor DeLong and his pupils. The entertainment will consist of ball-room and fancy dancing, in which all the latest quadrilles and fancy dances will be introduced, and it will conclude with a grand Chinese divertisement arranged by the Professor expressly for the occasion, entitled "The Beauties of China." The music will be furnished by Professor Toerge's orchestra. This entertainment closes the spring term of Professor DeLong's popular academy. The fall term will open again September 30th, and the winter term January 1, 1872. There will be one term for gentlemen, commencing October 2d.

Sudden Death.

Wm. Hutton, who recently began working as a helper in Brown's mill, on Tenth street, died suddenly yesterday morning, between two and three o'clock. He had gone out of the mill for something, and soon after was found in front of one of the furnaces motionless. An unsuccessful effort was made to arouse him, and Dr. McClelland, who was sent for, on arriving, pronounced him dead of heart disease. Coroner West held an inquest yesterday, and a verdict accordingly was rendered. Deceased was twenty-eight years of age, unmarried, and has a father and brother living in York, Pa.

THE Committee appointed by the meeting of citizens, in regard to the licensing of taverns, meets daily at half-past eleven A. M., in the Young Men's Christian Association parlor. They desire to meet the temperance men of the county immediately that the work now inaugurated may be prosecuted with vigor. Thos. H. Rabe, Chairman.

CHARLES THOMPSON was committed by Mayor Brush to answer a charge of larceny, preferred by F. C. Weigand, saloon keeper, No. 102 Water street. The information charged him with taking eighteen dollars. In answer to the inquiries of the Mayor, he stated that he ascended to the bed room where Mr. W. was sleeping for the purpose of waking him; that he walked up to the bedside and shook him, and not waking readily, he began to consider whether it would not be better to let him sleep a while longer. Just then he espied a pocket book on a small table, and on examing it found it to contain eighteen dollars. Suddenly concluding to allow Mr. W. to sleep on, he appropriated the pocket book and decamped, spending the money before being arrested. Such in brief was his sad story.

BETWEEN eleven and twelve o'clock Tuesday night a daughter of Mrs. John C. Collins, residing on Clark street, while going up stairs to retire for the night with a lighted candle, accidentally set fire to her clothing and before the flames could be extinguished she was fearfully burned.

SOUTH SIDE.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

MR. JOHN EICHELAY will likely be re-elected High Constable of Birmingham.

JOE BATES, the man stabbed in a row at Temperanceville on Saturday night, is dangerously injured.

BOROUGH officers for Birmingham will be elected on next Tuesday evening.

THE Directors of the Ormsby passenger railway met yesterday afternoon and had a talk over the affairs of the company. The contract will positively be set on April 1.

THE South side boroughs were unprolific of police news yesterday—neither East Birmington or South Pittsburgh contributing a single item.

THE iron screw propeller, noticed yesterday, as having been launched, attracts no little attention, and the curious venture aboard to inspect it closely.

THE case of assault and battery preferred before Justice Barker of South Pittsburgh, by Mark Durkin against Martin Welsh was amicably settled yesterday.

"CURIOSITY" adds a great deal to the coffers of the Monongahela Inclined Plane Company, many persons making the trip merely for the novelty of the thing.

THERE is a letter at the Birmingham Postoffice, the address of which is so intensely German that the Postmaster does not know where to send it. Besides there is no stamp on it.

LETTERS addressed to Andrew O'Hara, East Liberty, Pa., and Henry Guebert, Red Bud, Randolph county, Ill., are detained at the Birmingham Postoffice for want of prepayment of postage.

MORE persons, both strangers and residents, now view Pittsburgh from Mt. Washington than ever before in the history of the city. Because the means of reaching the summit or heights are so inviting.

THE South Pittsburgh Hose Company will be supplied with five hundred feet of hose this week. The hose has arrived, and as soon as the Jones couplings arrive will be put into service. A hose reel should be procured without delay, so that in case of fire the organization might prove effective.

JOHN MILLER and Henry McBride were charged with creating and maintaining a nuisance, upon the oath of John Woodburn. The latter alleges that the defendants maliciously deposited a quantity of dirt upon his lots, and refused to remove the same when requested to do so. Justice Krehan issued a warrant.

DAVID alias "SHIPPER" MORGAN was arrested and taken before Justice Kreehan, on complaint of Margaret Weidner, his mother-in-law, who charged him with disorderly conduct. He was fined $5 and costs, and in default thereof sentenced to the Workhouse for ninety days. In addition to the charge above noted, James McNaughton lodged complaint against Morgan for felonious assault and battery, alleging that the accused struck him on the head with a set of boat clamps. A warrant was issued, and when his term of service at Claremont expires he will be arrested on this charge.

THE Mt. Oliver Inclined Plane Company has organized by the election of the following temporary officers: President, August Ammon, Esq.; Treasurer, Charles Foerster; Secretary, E. G. Krehan; Directors, Peter Haberman, John Masser and Joseph Keeling, [illegible] Miller and McBride. These officers will likely be elected at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening. The capital stock—$20,000—has all been subscribed for, and the corporators will increase the sum, in case they should need more to build the road. John J. Endres, Esq., who built the Monongahela Inclined Plane, will in all probability have in charge this work also.

SIR JOHN FALSTAFF said "Give me another cup of sack." This coarse expression would not have been made had he ever experienced the fine and soothing effects of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale.

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1871.

It is highly gratifying that the success of the new loan is so great that Mr. BOUTWELL is convinced that it will speedily be taken up. The belief that this will be the best security in the world is beginning to dawn on the financial mind, and from all parts of our own country the Department is in the receipt of an extraordinary number of letters which furnish the evidence of the popularity of the loan, while from Europe, it is said, assurances have been received of the willingness of capitalists there to take all that is not subscribed here. We should be glad to see Pittsburgh do its share in this business. In former times, though somewhat slow to start, our city did well. The possessors of unemployed capital can feel assured that there is no better security than our new consuls.

THE mob still dominates regular authority in France. We say France, because the Assembly, it is said, is prepared to yield to the demands of the Revolutionists, as the ROTHSCHILDS have to a certain extent done to the demand for money. Apparently the only hope for relief lies in the German army, which must very soon be present on the scene. The experience of the last few days has dashed the expectations which the world had come to have concerning France, for law and order through a Republic would seem to be out of the question now. The arrest of certain Bonapartists indicates some of the influences stimulating these terrible disturbances, but whether they will be sufficient to solve the problem is yet to be determined. The names of those composing this revolutionary committee are not given, but the organization no doubt embraces not a few of the followers of the late Emperor, as well as many more without a defined purpose, and who are insignificant only when anarchy and bloodshed are supreme.

WE have more than once alluded to the system of co-operative emigration and colonization as possessing great advantages over the old plan of separate movement and settlement. The other day we noted the fact that a number of gentlemen of French descent residing in St. Louis had formed an organization to encourage the immigration into Missouri of inhabitants of the conquered territory of Alsace. We observe now that the French papers generally are discussing plans for directing to this country the prospective immigration of portions of that people. The formation of a company is advocated to send a trustworthy agent to France. It is proposed that they should settle in colonies in Georgia, East Tennessee and Northern Alabama. There is already in East Tennessee a Swiss colony of some three hundred families, which is represented as exceedingly prosperous, although it has been in existence only two years. We refer to the matter again not for the sake of the fact, but of the principle. It is a new step toward a proper solution of the questions of surplus population and availability of labor. Colonization conducted on this method carries with it inherent promises of prosperity, and pledges of social, industrial and educational progress. It is the true way.

THE New York Tribune is flooded with letters from good citizens of all classes, thanking it for its recent efforts in bringing to light and exposing the abominable vices to which we made reference a few days ago. The citizens of New York are greatly indebted to that journal for its courage in holding up to public execration the men who own and run these dens of infamy. We have no doubt that the temptations to gambling which these places hold out are in a great degree the cause of the frequent embezzlements of clerks, book-keepers, &c., and of the general demoralization of the youth of that city. Whether, however, the revelations of the Tribune will shame the police into more efficient action remains yet to be seen.

Apropos of which subject our own substantial citizens are moving in the matter of opposition to the indiscriminate granting of licenses to sell liquor which has hitherto prevailed. We do not suppose any intelligent person will dispute the necessity of a thorough reform in this direction, and it would put a very fine feather in the cap of our own police force were its members to exert themselves to forward the objects of the movement. They might also, while their hand was in, make a demonstration upon the gambling dens and other places of evil resort with which Pittsburgh is infested. There is abundant room for them to emulate the present example of their New York brethren.

IF the intention of "putting through" the San Domingo scheme at the present session of Congress ever existed, it appears to have been relinquished, for it is reported on what seems good authority that the present intention is to submit the report of the Commissioners and let the matter rest. If such is the determination it is eminently judicious, and it is probable that we may attribute it to the almost unanimous voice of the Republican press. It is clearly the duty of Republicans to cultivate only such relations as will insure harmony among themselves, and nothing should be pressed against the manifest judgment of the great body of the party. The time has fully come when Republicans, if they would prevent the Democrats from coming into power, to cease quarreling among themselves and once more commence acting together. This can be brought about in no manner so certainly as through toleration on questions which are not in the party platform, as surely the San Domingo question is not and probably never will be. The annexation of that country may be a wise measure, but it is not an article in the Republican creed. When we see the bones of the old rebellion fairly alive again, because of the quarrels of Republicans, it certainly is time to cease quarreling: the fact furnishes reason enough why our party should have nothing thrust on it to disrupt it, and why Republicans agreeing on the main question should be permitted to differ on minor questions. We have faith that out of the storm will come a clear sky, a condition of harmony and earnest effort against the common enemy. The masses are right, and whatever of distraction there is results solely from injudicious leadership and unwise attempts to institute foreign tests.

MISFORTUNES never come singly. Calamities hunt in couples. The Saturday Review of February 25th, had notices and "criticisms" on no less than twenty-three different American books, which gave it an opportunity of inflicting on our poor country a greater number of stabs than BRUTUS gashed CÆSAR withal; and now comes Mr. ROEBUCK, writing M. P. after his name, who, in an address delivered at Sheffield, England, last Wednesday, "denounced the liberation of the Fenian convicts as a dastardly act, and their reception in America as disgraceful to the country, and as another proof that she is England's bitter enemy."

Well, now, this is sad indeed.

> "The times have been
> That when the brains were out the man would die,
> And there an end; but now they rise again."

With more than forty-idiot power of gibberish. We could, with an effort, endeure the Review; but how we shall manage now that it has received reinforcements of so tremendous a character is more than we can tell. So long as—on the occasion of a memorable oration by S. S. PRENTISS—his annoyances were confined to the interruptions of his political opponent, he bore the infliction with the utmost good humor; but when, simultaneously with an impertinent question addressed to him from this quarter, he heard in another the dismal braying of a poor forlorn ass, he acknowledged his inability to cope with two such antagonists at once, and yielded the field in despair. In like manner we "throw up the sponge." We could make headway against the Review, but its latest alliance scares us. Peccavi!

THE times have changed since the period when Lord BROUGHAM proposed for the motto of the Edinburgh Review the sentence, "We cultivate literature on a little oatmeal." The days of Grub street have gone by, thank heaven, never to return. Our GOLDSMITHS and JOHNSONS do not now hide in garrets and starve on porridge. Writing for the public press is a very different affair from what it was when SAVAGE died from a surfeit provoked by a long fast, and CHATTERTON committed suicide in despair. We see it stated that the managing editors of each of the four great New York dailies, the Herald, Tribune, World and Times are each paid a salary of a hundred dollars a week, twice the sum which MILTON received for the copyright of Paradise Lost. The lowest sums paid to writers of ordinary merit are from thirty-five to fifty dollars per week, while first-class writers receive from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and sixty-five dollars weekly. These salaries would have been collossal fortunes to the most famous authors of that age. It is remarked, however, that the men who have acquired the greatest reputation as authors have seldom been successful when they have tried the experiment of becoming conductors of the public press. In the editorial chair tact would seem to surpass talent; or at least the latter, except when in alliance with the former, is as likely to produce failure as to guarantee success. The most successful newspapers appear to have been originated and kept up by men not specially distinguished for literary ability. Business energy, knowledge of public affairs, and the capacity to discern what the people want, are the qualities which make successful editors and newspapers now-a-days. Genius creates, talent combines, tact chooses; and he who has the truest faculty of sagacious choosing will in journalism be the most successful editor.

OPPOSITION TO EDUCATION.

SENATOR WILSON recently contributed an article to the Atlantic Monthly, in which he advocated a unified system of secular education throughout the country, under the general supervision of the National Government. This theory of the Senator is most vehemently attacked in the leading paper of the current number of the Catholic World, by a writer who ought to have lived in the days of the Holy Inquisition. We refer to his argument not for purposes of discussion, but to show the drift and tenor of the thought and intention of no inconsiderable body of our citizens. The writer, in pointing out the evil consequences which have already flowed from the principle of Federal "usurpation," says:

> "It has carried into effect a series of high-handed outrages on the rights of the States. It has abolished Slavery, simplified the labor system of the Union, contracted a public debt which secures the influence of the money power in favor of the consolidation of the Government, abolished all civil and political distinctions of race and color, assumed the power of determining the right of suffrage and eligibility to office, and subjected the elections to the control of the military."

It is hardly to be wondered at that a man who thus bemoans the suppression of the rebellion and the abolition of slavery should entertain the following views:

> "In extending education, we have only extended presumption, pretension, conceit, indocility, and brought incapacity to the surface."

If indeed we had not happily better data upon which to base conclusions respecting the matter, than that afforded by this writer's statements, we should not pretend to dispute the validity of his judgment. Fortunately however, it does not follow that because his own education has developed in himself no higher qualities or capacities than those which he enumerates, it has equally failed with reference to other people. We are perfectly willing to admit that his essay admirably illustrates and corroborates his theory, so far as it relates to himself; but we still insist that he is not justified in gauging the knowledge and wisdom of the whole world by the measure of his own "presumption and conceit." We can well understand how he "has no more faith in the idea of universal education than in the political principles of Senator WILSON," because his love of injustice is evidently as deeply imgrained as is his intellectual stupidity. He is wrong-hearted as well as thick-headed, and is therefore incompetent to comprehend either the political principles of the Senator or the idea of popular education. What he unmistakably reveres and looks back longingly to are the good old times when every man possessed the privilege of "walloping his own nigger" without let or hindrance. But we can point him to a hundred thousand log cabins in the South, tenanted by black men and women and children, whose shelves of spelling-books and primers give a flat contradiction to his argument in so far as he attempts to give it general application. It is quite natural that he should refuse to believe "that the great bulk of any people can ever be so educated as to understand the essential questions of government for themselves." Himself floundering in a hopeless muddle of ignorance and prejudice, it is in accordance with the law of mind that he should fancy everybody else to be in a similar predicament. That which a man is the condition of his belief. You cannot make a blind man understand anything about colors, nor teach a deaf man harmony, nor get him who is born without the sense of smell to admit any difference of fragrance in the respective orders of flowers. "They will always blindly follow their leaders," he says—speaking of the people, and here again the same principle has precise application. A man who has for years tamely submitted to be led by the nose will very naturally look to see every other man's nasal organ sore. "The best ordered State," he says, "is that in which the few are well educated, and the many are trained to obedience, willing to be directed, and content to follow." But if the products of education are such as he has stated them to be, and as in his own case they certainly are, what sort of outcome are we to expect of this "obedience" and "following?" It is not very safe, we should think, to be led and directed by "presumption, pretension, conceit and incapacity." Under such guidance will not the whole herd—leaders and followers—be very likely to bring up in the deepest kind of a ditch? But, even if we grant his premises, who is to select the chosen "few?" Is each individual to be left free to judge for himself of the extent of his educational capacities and needs, or is the decision to be left to a "few" such persons as the writer in question? If so, we greatly fear we should soon again witness the BOMBAS' and LORINIS' and GRASSIS' strutting in royal or ecclesiastical purple, and the noble KEPLERS and GALILEOS' languishing in mouldy prisons.

IN an article on the French insurrection, a leading Democratic journal argues that the terrible disorders which afflict France are chargeable upon "centralism," and that the fearful lesson of her centralization ought to be a warning to us, especially at this time when the chief aim of the party in power at Washington is "to break down and subdue every sentiment of local independence." What the writer means is, in plain English, or rather in plain Irish, that since "every man is as good as another and a great deal better," he ought to be permitted to have his own way without interference or molestation, which, so long as it happens to be their own way, is exactly what the Paris reds think. "It is the fundamental postulate of democracy that all men are equal," exclaims this writer in a burst of ponderous Johnsonese. Excellent, my lord; and now will you please to tell us how long it is since you made this important discovery, and whether you are willing to make it the pivotal principle of your future discussions upon our own Southern affairs, the hunted, persecuted, outraged and murdered black loyalist included?

THE Paris correspondent of the New York World, writing of the present savage lust of disorder in France, says:

> "From the heights of Montmartre there seems to come the fierce interrogatories of the grand hymn of the Revolution, which Lamartine called "a recovered echo of Thermopylæ," * * * the "fire-water of the Revolution which instilled into the senses and the soul of the people the intoxication of battle."

We should be inclined to call it rather "a recovered echo" from the bottomless pit. And here is the commentary on Lamartine's poetic foolery, and the admiring correspondent's fluent nonsense. "Gen. Lecomte was abandoned by his troops on the heights of Montmartre. General Thomas fell at the third discharge. His last word was "cowards." General Vinoy has been killed. Only wine-shops are open. Drunkenness is rampant. Even women are armed." Bah!

IT is all settled now. The women suffragists in Chicago the other day decided that women had already the right to vote without any Constitutional Amendment. They therefore intend to register and offer their votes at the next Presidential election, and if their ballots are refused, to take their case into the law courts. O, dear suffragists, we yield to none in catholicity of view as to woman's capacities and woman's sphere, but do you really think your votes the only moral disinfectant elements in the world, and isn't it possible that woman shall be equal to man without being identical with him, and isn't silence a better workman than clamor, and do the hens which cackle loudest lay the greatest number of eggs? There, now.

THE High Commission, says the Washington Patriot, are working hard day and night. The British members keep their whole force employed, and the daily bill for telegraphing by the cable would of itself make up a considerable item, if allowed to come under the liberal provisions of the Thornton-Fish correspondence. They know in London before going to bed all the details of the day, so that Lord Granville can oil a tight joint or loosen a spring whenever there is the least hitch in any part of the preconcerted programme, which our amiable Commissioners suppose they are arranging in their own way. It is stated that a month more will be sufficient to close up the negotiations.

A GENERAL army order directs company commanders to report the names of all indifferent soldiers who ought, for the good of the service, to be discharged, and provides for the transfer of men from one company to another, so that on the 1st of July next the aggregate force of the army shall not exceed 30,000, as required by the act of the last Congress reducing the number of enlisted men to that limit. Recruiting officers will hereafter raise the standard of height and other qualifications for service.

Canada during last year sent six letters and newspapers to the United Kingdom where it sent one to the United States. That country has now 3,820 postoffices, and the entire postal route is 29,439 miles. The revenue in 1870 was $1,010,767.

THE LEGAL TENDER QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

You advert to the report that the Supreme Court of the United States has decided to reopen the legal tender case, with the probability of a reversal, which you say would work much injury, and is to be deprecated in every way; referring to the former decision as having affirmed the constitutionality of the law, and been accepted everywhere.

In stating, however, that it affirmed the constitutionality of an act of Congress you furnish what would be, if correct, an argument for acquiescence, through an error, doubtless, of the types. The trouble is that it dis-affirmed, and that too by a divided Court and the aid of the Chief Justice, a law which had carried us through the war, and been indorsed by that officer himself, as Secretary of the Treasury.

It was the first instance, too, if I mistake not, in our history, in which an act of Congress was ever held to be unconstitutional; and it was so held here, in clear violation of the well settled rule that no such question should ever be heard except before a full bench, and no law adjudged invalid on such grounds except in a very clear case, as of course no case is, where the Court divided, as it did here; and the decision ought, therefore, by their own logic, to have been the other way.

It deserves to be remembered also that it was the result of a political division on the Bench, the Judges who felt coldly towards the war, along with Field, who, though like Chase, indebted for his appointment to the Republican Administration, has always been supposed to sympathize with his Democratic colleagues, concurring in the discredit, after it had done its work, of the great instrument which, under Providence, had most assisted us in disappointing the hopes and expectations of the Democratic leaders of the North.

Allow me to say that I think you are mistaken in supposing either that there has been a general acquiescence in this decision, and that the country has settled down to it, or that the injury its reopening would inflict, would be so great as to render it undesirable in itself.

The courts have of course felt bound by it while it continues unreversed, and injustice has been, no doubt, in many cases its result; but it has never been the usage to regard divided opinion as of high authority, and there has been no time at which the idea of a review of this one has not been urged and looked for. If it has not yet been reached, the reason may perhaps be found in the fact that importunate suitors have been bought off at a premium by agents of foreign money dealers.

There is no consideration, moreover, of private injury that can be justly allowed to have any weight in a case where the true meaning of the fundamental law of the nation, and perhaps its ultimate destinies, are involved. When the best professional minds of the country are united, as I think they are here, in the opinion that the judgment of a court upon such a question has been influenced by the political bias of its members, and has no solid foundations to rest upon, acquiescence is neither to be expected nor desired. JUS.

UNDER the belief, from reports circulated, that the High Commission, in admitting the "Alabama" business, would present, by way of set-off, claims of British subjects against the United States, Englishmen are hurrying to Washington with a view of presenting their claims, and it is further mentioned that an English solicitor, now at New York, has in his possession applications from his countrymen to the amount of some eight million dollars, and yet others expected by him. A Manchester firm have a claim of $800,000, and several other parties demand indemnity for cotton alleged to have been destroyed by the Union forces during the rebellion. Even blockade runners are asking that their vessels, lost or captured, shall be paid for, and surprise is expressed that the Messrs. Lairds have not also put in a "little bill" for the consideration of the Commission, inasmuch as it is understood that the pirate Semmes not only stole these vessels but cheated the rebel sympathizing ship builders in the purchase of the Shenandoah. It is considered as not at all unlikely, under the circumstances, that the Anglo-Rebel bondholders will also be represented in the "set off," as well as the Canadians, who were despoiled and so terribly frightened by the Fenian raiders under O'Neill; and, in short, that every patriotic Englishman who took a hand in any way against the "late United States," will endeavor to secure reimbursement to the extent of his investment.

THE effects of the war upon the German influx to this country is demonstrated in a statement of the arrivals of Germans for each month in 1870 and January and February of the present year. War was declared on Prussia by France on the 15th of July, 1870. In the previous month nearly eleven thousand Germans came over. In July the arrivals dropped down to 7,422, in August there were less than half the number, and in September the low point of 1,330 was reached. October and November showed a rapid increase, the latter month exhibiting 6,265 arrivals. There was a falling off in December to 2,768. The decrease continued through January—and February there were only 864 arrivals. Here are the official figures:

January	2,140
February	1,634
March	4,147
April	8,276
May	18,370
June	12,925
July	7,422
August	3,416
September	1,330
October	3,792
November	6,265
December	2,768
1871.
January	1,131
February	864

It can be safely said that the war caused a decrease in arrivals of at least 40,000 from the average of previous years. The number of Frenchmen coming to this country is surprisingly small. During 1870 the arrivals at Castle Garden, New York, numbered but 2,180, and in the present year eighty-six Frenchmen landed in January and nineteen in February.

The fact is known of the organization in California, more than a year since, of a company for the cultivation of tea. The experiment began with plants imported from Japan, but it has been shown that seed germinates well, and the shrubs have grown and are growing so finely that the belief obtains that the State will have from this source a very material addition to its trade. In this connection some facts concerning the importation of tea, at San Francisco, are interesting, demonstrating, as they do, beyond cavil, that New York no longer possesses superiority as a tea market over other Eastern cities. In San Francisco there are seven principal houses, and the freight from that city to the Atlantic is three dollars, currency, per hundred pounds, enabling the consumer to drink his infusion within one month from the receipt of the tea at the Chinese port. The California importation was 2,155,024 pounds in 1869, and 3,451,557 in 1870—an increase of more than half the whole former amount in a single year. This does not include the amount forwarded east in bond. The average time on the voyage is eighteen days from Japan and twenty-two from China—a gain of about three months over the receipt at New York by any other than the Pacific Railway.

"GOVERNOR SCOTT, and the other officers of the South Carolina State Government, have received orders from the Ku-Klux Klan to resign office and leave the State. Two officers have obeyed."—New York Tribune.

Well, we cry shame upon the officers who have "obeyed." We have no doubt of the fact that in South Carolina, as in other States, a number of bad men have crept into office and power, and we are inclined to the belief that these men who "resigned" in obedience to the dictate of a mob were exactly of this class. But as for Gov. Scott, we have a fancy that he will follow the example of Stanton, and—stick. He has doubtless fallen into occasional mistakes of judgment during his administration of affairs, but there is not to-day in the whole State of South Carolina a man more anxious for the general welfare and prosperity of the people, or one who has exerted himself more earnestly and faithfully to bring these things about. But let a people be bitten with the fool-madness, and they are sure to be most violent toward their best friends. And thus the cowards of the Congaree attest their kinship with the butchers of the Seine.

THE New York police have another "mysterious murder" on their hands, which the Herald says will afford them an opportunity of exercising a portion of that diligence which they appear to have been wasting in the endeavor to secure innumerable and imaginary "Nathan murderers" all over the country. The latest victim proves to be Mr. Edward L. Conklin, a poor gentleman of Brooklyn, his body having been found in Wallabout Bay. Nothing whatever seems to be known of the case, except that it is one of foul murder.

Justice Howe, of Wyoming, again bears testimony to the strictly honest, impartial and capable manner in which women jurors had discharged their duties in his court. He said he was prepared to indorse fully and unqualifiedly the excellent results that spring from the influence and presence of women in the jury box, and that he had not been able, with the closest observation, to detect the least objection or unfitness in women to serve in that capacity. On the contrary, he had reasons to believe that the introducing of her refining and humanizing influence marked a new and improved epoch in the administration of justice.

The growth of the new German city on Long Island, called Breslau, astonishes almost everybody. It was incorporated eighteen months ago, and covers 3,600 acres of land. It is now quite as large, and its buildings quite as handsome as any of the antiquated villages on the Island. It has churches, hotels, stores, manufactories, and all that goes to constitute a country village. On Easter Monday 3,000 Germans will hold a peace jubilee, the new Catholic Church will be dedicated, an oration will be delivered in the afternoon, and a ball given in the evening.

The Recent Earthquake in the Sandwich Islands.

The earthquake at Honolulu and elsewhere in the Sandwich Islands on the night of February 19th, is said to have been the severest shock experienced in that region within the memory of any one living. Its peculiarity was the duration of the vibration, at first perpendicular but gradually changing to horizontal, and increasing in violence to the point of culmination. The vibration continued with visible force for fully fifty-five seconds, and up to the forty-fifth second the violence of the shock had so increased that those who had before experienced similar convulsions of nature began to inquire of themselves when it was going to end and what rapidity of motion the earth would attain before she stopped. Buildings were considerably wrecked, but no lives were lost.

A correspondent writing from the Island of Lanai says:

> The shock of April, 1868, was very light here, and barely noticed by a few; but this one roused up every soul on the island; shook it from vale to peak, and racked and rent its bold, rock-ribbed coast. A great portion of the well-known bluff, Pali Kaholo, has fallen into the sea; enormous fragments have broken off from those towering ocean walls between Mancle Bay and Kawaike Point; masses of the red bassalt have been torn from the beetling turrets of Puupehe, the lone sea-tower near the south-eastern end of the island; huge bowlders have been hurled from the mountain sides, and the ravines are filled with debris of rocks and trees and slides of earth; several great clefts have been opened in different parts of the island; and it has been shaken and broken as though the mighty elements of the earthquake were surging and upheaving at its very foundations, and ready to burst forth with volcanic fury, and convert its lovely valleys once more into flaming, sulphuric craters.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal, referring to the recent shocking fate of "The Paper" in Pittsburgh, makes the following remarks over its grave: "Its demise adds only one to a thousand examples of the infatuation which so often seizes upon persons of limited newspaper experience, but large ambition, ushering into the world a species of embryo, half-formed and ill-featured press, with no solid foundation, and no chance of commercial or journalistic life. The newspaper business, like every business, must be created slowly and at great care and cost. It is absurd to expect a newspaper to spring up in a night, just as it is absurd to look for the sudden coming of a hotel, a railroad, a university, or any other complicated enterprise or institution, depending on varied and extensive patronage, asking popular confidence, and requiring great sums of money."

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

A pretty ornament may be made by suspending an acorn by a piece of thread tied around it within an inch of the surface of some water contained in a vase, tumbler or saucer and allowing it to remain undisturbed for several weeks. It will then burst open and small roots will seek the water; a straight and tapering stem, with beautiful and glossy green leaves, will shoot upward and present a pleasing appearance.

Arrangements are in progress for the construction of a tunnel, five miles in length, under the Sierra Nevada Mountains, for the purpose of conveying water from Lake Tahoe all through the State of California to San Francisco, and to supply towns, cities and mining camps on the route with water. The whole project is one of the grandest engineering schemes of the age.

A meeting of the men born in the year of the "cold summer," 1816, was held last week at Syracuse, New York. Twenty-four were present, and it was decided to form an organization, the object of which, though not stated, it suggested may be to prevent cold summers in the future.

The seventeen-year locusts having made their appearance in great numbers in the northern part of Illinois and the southern part of Iowa in 1837, and again in 1854, and this being the seventeenth year, they are again expected.

Thirty-four citizens of Baltimore have subscribed $50,000 to erect a new building in that city for the Young Men's Christian Association, no collections to be made until the subscriptions amount to $200,000. John W. Garrett, John Hopkins and Mrs. Isabella Brown head the list with $10,000 each.

Southern papers publish a letter written by Robert E. Lee, February 16, 1865, in which he says that he thought the employment of negroes as soldiers by the Confederacy was not only expedient but necessary, and also that he thought that the negro under proper circumstances would make an efficient soldier, and that those who were thus employed should be freed.

Mr. S. C. Dubois, in a lecture at Philadelphia on "The Coal Trade," said the miners in the anthracite region represented a population of some 100,000 souls, mostly Irish, but also numbering many English and Welsh. There are two ways to silence their clamors—either to yield to their demands or starve them. The last plan, he asserted, had twice been tried, and the miners were now determined to maintain their position. They would starve with dogged persistency rather than yield to the reduction of their wages.

The name of the precious stone topaz is derived from the Island Topazion, which was supposed to be situated on the Red Sea. There are two kinds of topazes. The superior is a golden color, the other inclines to greenish yellow. The second species was called chrysophrase, a name which indicates the blending of gold and leek color. In allusion to the latter color the stone is called in the Chaldean dialect jarken (green), which is the equivalent of praise.

PERSONAL.

Prof. Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, has received the decoration of "Commander of the Order of St. Olaf," from Charles, King of Sweden and Norway. A joint resolution will be offered in Congress to enable the Professor to accept the honor.

The fact is stated that one of the leading statesmen of Alabama, a delegate to the National Democratic Convention in this city in 1868, has been obliged to leave that State because, in the lawful pursuit of his profession, he was one of the counsel for the people against the murderers of a worthy citizen who was dragged from his home at night and murdered by the Ku-Klux. The gentleman referred to has sought refuge in Washington.

Senator Sumner has one of the finest private collections of engravings in the country, and has spent a very large sum in their acquisition. Much of his surplus income is devoted to their purchase.

Professor W. E. Moore, has been for forty years a traveler, and for a number of years has been exploring the wilds and ruins of South America. He was, from the age of fourteen to twenty-five, a pupil of the world-renowned ornithologist and naturalist, Audubon, is a native of Richmond, Virginia, and is now a very old man in feeble health. He is at present sojourning at Selma, Alabama.

The marriage of Miss Chase, daughter of Chief Justice Chase, to Mr. W. S. Hoyt, of New York, will be the great social event of the week in Washington, though the season of Lent will exercise an influence which will make it more quiet than it would have been if occurring at the height of the fashionable season. The wedding will be at St. John's Church, noted for the distinguished and fashionable character of its membership, to-day, at one o'clock. The invitations are in the name of Chief Justice Chase, and cards of admission to the Church have been issued, which will be presented at the door. The ceremony will be performed by Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Sprague give a card reception at their residence between the hours of three and five o'clock. The President and many other high officials have been invited, and are expected to be present.

During her sojourn in Washington City, last week, Madame Maria Seebach was robbed of several very costly articles of jewelry, including three necklaces with precious stones and a fine gold watch.

The continued ill health of Mr. Gough has compelled him to give up all lecture engagements for the present. He is said to have delivered more lectures and speeches since November 1 than any man in the country.

The French war took from us some members of the Orleans and Bonaparte families who had resided here for various terms. It is announced that we shall soon receive in exchange the ex-Emperor himself, the Empress, Emile de Girardin, the Prince Royal, and undoubtedly a great following of the new emigres. The Empress is at Dover, awaiting the ex-Emperor's arrival from Wilhelmshohe. It has been reported that one or more of the German monarchs retired from business under Prussian influences might follow some of their ex-subjects to these western shores, and the advent of ex-Queen Isabella has formed a theme for speculation. Should Napoleon and Eugenie realize the report, the losses of royalty that we have suffered will be more than made good, and the New Yorkers who have gathered so many reminiscences of the Emperor's career will have an opportunity to verify them if correct, or realize them if hitherto imaginary.

The contest of the publishers for the pen of Bret Harte being over, the tide of his popularity begins to turn. Ever since he left San Francisco and Chicago the papers of those towns have fallen to abusing him, and now we find Mr. Curtis saying in April Harper's: "It is not the crowd that claps the loudest whose applause is most worth the having, and we trust that in coming East he will devote his abilities, which no one questions, to a literature worthy his endowments." Mr. Harte has found that it is the publisher who pays best whose applause is most worth the having. After all, gold is at the bottom of these things.

Capt. George W. Alexander, the rebel commandant of Castle Thunder, Richmond, Va., and afterward of the military prison in Salisbury, N. C., was so much afraid of the consequences of his brutality, at the close of the war, that he fled the country. It is now stated that he recently died in poverty in England, in a wretched quarter of Liverpool.

Madame George Sand, it is reported, intends to edit an ultra-Radical and Republican journal in Paris, having already made an engagement as to salary and to duties. The last we heard of her she was preparing for a long journey in the East.

CINCINNATI AND PITTSBURGH.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I see from your report of the proceedings of the meeting of Saturday in relation to the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Road that one of the speakers (Mr. Josiah King) assumes it as a patent fact, which he is sorry that we do not realize, that this city is falling behind others; which he illustrates by the statement that Cincinnati once, as he says, but an intermediate point, depending on Pittsburgh for many of her manufactures, "has now outgrown us."

How this assumption is to be reconciled with the extravagant estimates of our present and prospective growth that have led the paper with which he is connected to favor the largest projects of expenditure will be for him to explain. That Cincinnati, however, in her ambition to count herself into the first rank of Western cities, will chuckle over the admission is hot to be doubted.

But is it true? It did look so unquestionably ten years ago; but the late census has just disclosed the fact that it is true no longer, and that instead of being largely behind Cincinnati as we then actually were, we are now in advance of it, the whole population of Hamilton county, comprising the city, amounting to only 260,000, while that of Allegheny county, embracing the city of Pittsburgh, foots up between 3,000 and 4,000 more. If Cincinnati reckons within its corporate limits more than Pittsburgh, it is only because those limits comprehend nearly the whole county in which it lies, while ours are restricted to a small part of the triangle between the rivers.

It would seem due to the people of these communities, that so intelligent a gentleman as Mr. King, who was no doubt hurried inadvertantly into a little hyperbole, as an impetuous orator sometimes is, by his zeal for the particular interest he was then advocating, should lose no time in correcting an admission so well calculated not only to gratify the pride of a pretentious rival, but to keep up a distinction that has so long and so very unjustly assigned to Cincinnati a first rank in general public estimation while Pittsburgh, with its suburban districts, which are really a part of it, although ahead of her in population, and immeasurably so in resources, has been so entirely ignored. DUQUESNE.

Be Guided by What You Know.

There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief. They inquire what a medicine has done for others before they adopt it themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of that ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his common sense to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor. Thus, its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows and spreads. Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere local tricksters, and others who take a somewhat wider range, attempt to thrust into the hands and down the throats of invalids, their haphazard concoctions, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the United States, Spanish America, Canada, and the West Indies, but only succeed to a very limited extent. In this reasoning age, the people having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline "running after strange gods."

OBITUARY.

JUDGE ELLIS LEWIS.

Judge Ellis Lewis, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, who expired on Sunday last, at his residence in Philadelphia, was one of the most eminent citizens of our State, long in public life, and as much admired for his intellectual acquirements as he was for his genial qualities of heart. He was a native of Pennsylvania, having been born in Lewisburg, York county, May 16, 1798, and began life as a printer, in the office of the Pennsylvania Republican, published at Harrisburg. In 1822, when twenty-four years of age, he was admitted to the bar of Dauphin county, was a successful practitioner, and soon became well known. Acting with the Democratic party, he was, in 1824, appointed District Attorney by Governor Heister, and removing to Tioga county, was, in 1831, elected to the Legislature. He was appointed Attorney General of the State by Governor Wolf in January, 1832, and in October following President Judge of the Eighth Judicial District. In January, 1843, he was appointed President Judge of the Second Judicial District, and in 1851, under the new law making the judiciary elective, chosen as one of the justices of the Supreme Court of the State, becoming Chief Justice of that tribunal in December of that year. His term expiring, he was in 1857 unanimously renominated by the Democratic Convention, but declined and retired to private life. He was appointed in 1858 one of the Commissioners to revise the Criminal Code of the State, and after serving for a time, declined in consequence of failing health and the arduous nature of the task imposed. In acknowledgment of his familiarity with medical jurisprudence he received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the Philadelphia College, and the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on him by Transylvania University in Kentucky, and by Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pennsylvania. Many of his opinions are recognized in the books as standard authority. He wrote but one law book, an "Abridgement of the Criminal Law" of the United States. His tastes were decidedly literary, and he frequently contributed to magazines and newspapers, his productions always being characterized by rare elegance. He was a warm advocate of internal improvement, and contributed largely of his energy and means in carrying forward railroad and other important enterprises, in order to develop the resources of our Commonwealth. Few men have occupied a more prominent position in public affairs, and his death will be regretted throughout the State. Of his family only a daughter survives, Mrs. Juliet H. L. Campbell, wife of Hon. James H. Campbell, ex-Minister to Congress.

LETTER FROM GREENVILLE, PA.

The Temperance Revival—Lectures by Gen. S. F. Cary.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

GREENVILLE, PA., March 21, 1871.

It may be safely written that there exists in this community a more profound feeling upon the subject of temperance, at this time, than at any former time for many years. Gen. S. F. Cary, of Cincinnati, one of the most eloquent and able temperance reformers now living, lectured here upon this imporant theme on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, in the M. E. Church, and on Sabbath evening in the U. P. Church, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of this place. His lectures were largely attended, the last one being listened to by an audience of not less than 700, including many who have been heretofore indifferent upon the subject. They constitute a complete vindication of the Bible from the charge of countenancing the use of intoxicating drinks, and demonstrated the iniquity of the license system of Pennsylvania in a manner that defies controversy.

A good work has been commenced in this community, and every lover of decency and good order, and every friend of the human race, will bid it God-speed. B.

THE respectable lawyers of New York City, with a view of clearing out the "shysters" and "bummers" who infest the Courts, swindling their clients and defrauding the law, are seeking for the incorporation of "the Association of the Bar" of that city, and a bill with this object has been introduced in the Legislature.

WEAK NERVES.

WARNER'S DYSPEPSIA TONIC is prepared expressly for Dyspeptics and those suffering from Weak Nerves with habitual Constipation. There are very few who have not employed physicians for years to remedy what this preparation will do in a few weeks, by strengthening the Nerves, enriching the Circulation, restoring Digestion, giving Strength mentally and physically, enabling those who may have been confined for years to their rooms as invalids to again resume their occupations and all the duties of life. One trial is all we ask to enable this remedy to recommend itself to the most skeptical. It is a slightly stimulating tonic and a splendid appetizer; it strengthens the stomach, and restores the generative organs and digestion to a normal healthy state. Weak, nervous and dyspeptic persons should use WARNER'S DYSPEPSIA TONIC. For sale by druggists. Price One Dollar. TThs

FINANCE AND TRADE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, March 22, 1871.

The local money market is unchanged in its general features. The banks are working close up to their lines, and the outside market is but meagerly supplied with loanable means. Very little acceptable paper is seen outside the banks.

—Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

	Morning.	Noon.	Clos'g.
U. S. Bonds of 1881	115⅝	115⅝	115⅝
U. S. Bonds of 1862	112⅞	112⅞	112⅞

James T. Brady & Co., corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street, quote United States securities in New York to-day as follows:

Gold	111⅛

United States 5-20s of 1862	112⅞
United States 5-20s of 1864	111⅜

—The New York Post says: Government bonds are steady to-day, but a fraction lower than yesterday's highest prices. By the provisions of the funding act, approved July 14, 1870, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to redeem five-twenties at par in gold, and cancel the same on giving three months' notice of such intended redemption, the interest on the bonds called in to cease three months from the date of the notice calling them in. It is reported that the Secretary will, in April, make the first call under this law, beginning with the first series of five-twenties of '62 issued. This action would, it is believed, stimulate subscriptions to the new loan. The public credit act, approved March 18, 1869, and which has been cited as authority why the Secretary could not buy 5-20s at par in gold, says: "But none of the said interest-bearing obligations not already due shall be redeemed or paid before maturity, unless at such time as United States notes shall be convertible into coin at the option of the holder, or unless at such time as bonds of the United States bearing a lower rate of interest than the bonds to be redeemed can be sold at par in coin." We quote this merely to correct a prevailing misapprehension that the Treasury cannot redeem the five-twenties until the gold premium has been extinguished. In this connection we hear the objection urged that the Secretary cannot redeem the five-twenties in gold unless the new bonds subscribed for are paid for in gold, and not in five-twenties. The probable action of the Secretary in the matter is much canvassed in Wall street, and the prevailing belief is that his April programme will be a startling one.

—The railway and miscellaneous share speculation is tame to-day, although prices are fairly maintained, and in some instances higher than yesterday. As we noticed yesterday there seems to be a disposition among the cliques to await developments in regard to the money market before making any movement of importance. All apprehensions on this score will probably vanish with the first of April, when it is said the upward movement will be again pushed with vigor. The leading stocks are in the hands of the cliques, who are now strong, and who can only successfully unload on a buoyant market. This is particularly the case with non-dividend paying stocks, whose principal value consists in their future, like Western Union Telegraph and Ohio and Mississippi.

—The New York Times says: The upward speculation in the street is chiefly confined to the New York and Western railroads and the miscellaneous stocks. The revival of interest in the latter is only "semi-occasionally," but when speculation does take hold of them, the advance, as in the present instance, is rapid, and sometimes for reasons past finding out. In the low-priced Western roads the present run is upon Ohio and Mississippi. The original parties to the upward movement have the reputation, after carrying up the price from 28@30, of having sold out at 40, and to their surprise found a much stronger force behind them—ready to take the whole capital of $20,000,000 at further advance, now scarcely halting at 46@48⅞ per cent. This is, unquestionably, a Baltimore and Ohio movement. The gauge of the road between Cincinnati and St. Louis (with the side branch to Louisville) is to be narrowed to the gauge of the Baltimore and Ohio and Marietta and Cincinnati, as now operated under one control, from Baltimore to Cincinnati, and the entire interest is soon to become one, if the present programme of the buyers of the Ohio and Mississippi stock is carried out on Wednesday next, in the election of a new Board of Directors. The circumstance that Mr. Daniel Torrance, a son-in-law of Mr. Vanderbilt, and for some time Vice President of the New York Central, has consented, with Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio, to take charge of the road, has probably given plausibility to the rumor that "the Vanderbilt party" is in the movement. But we have reason to believe that it is essentially a Baltimore combination, having a strong collateral support from certain New York operators, for the profit which its early success is supposed to hold out.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
WEDNESDAY, March 22, 1871. }

REMARKS.—After one day's absence, mild weather has returned to gladden the hearts of all. With regard to the market we have only to say that it is active, and prices generally unchanged. Potatoes are in good demand at quotations; choice butter is scarce and in good demand, the stock on hand being of a medium grade and dull sale at low figures. Eggs are still a drug in the market, and sell slowly at 14@16c per dozen. There is an active demand for grain, prices firm, and an advance in rates anticipated. On groceries there seems to be an upward tendency, particularly in refined sugars. We notice new radishes on sale at the moderate price of 50@65c per dozen bunches. Flour, bacon and provisions, cheese, etc., are unchanged in prices. Business, in all its various departments, is reported good, and daily increasing. Stocks, both of imported and manufactured goods and wares, are ample for all emergencies. The local markets are abundantly supplied.

Following are the receipts of the leading articles of produce for the past two weeks, which will be found useful for reference:

	Last week.	This week.	Total.
Flour, bbls	2,956	3,646	6,602
Apples, bbls	1,882	1,379	3,261

The New Mountain Packet Nellie Peck.

The above is the name of Captain Grant Marsh's new and splendid steamer, just completed at our landing, built under the superintendence of her commander. The following particulars may be of interest: Hull by H. B. Cock, Brownsville; length, one hundred and eighty feet; beam, thirty-five feet; hold, four and a-half feet. The hull was built of seasoned material, has extra fastenings and is heavily timbered. The cabin is a splendid affair, built by Messrs. Crumlow & Coon, Brownsville. The staterooms are large and beautifully fitted up. The painting, by J. W. Jefferies, has done him credit. The carpets are of the handsomest kind, furnished by Messrs. O. McClintock & Co., who have a few more of the same sort. The looking-glasses are by Messrs. J. J. Gillispie & Co. The cabin outfit and silver-ware were furnished by Evans, Dallas & Gilmore, and the upholstery by Wiederman & Holtzman; blocks and tackle, Thos. Davage; blacksmith work, Hershberger & Co., Brownsville. The boats were finished by S. Rodgers. The engines were built by James Rees, Esq.; cylinders fifteen inches in diameter, five feet stroke. She is furnished with three boilers, thirty-six inches in diameter and twenty-four feet long; wheels eighteen feet in diameter and twenty-two feet buckets. She is furnished with Rees's new double steam capstans, a new invention of our townsman, and one that is expected to come into general use. It must be seen to be appreciated. In the forward part of the cabin is a fine painting, executed by Mr. E. Bott, a young artist, representing the machine shop and foundry of "James Rees," Esq., on the Allegheny. On each side are an Indian Chief, who, having discovered that hive of industry and enterprise, is about retracing his steps across the Allegheny, evidently having made a mistake, as loafing is not allowed about that establishment. The after end of the cabin is ornamented by a handsome view of Rochester, Pa., the execution of which has done Mr. Bott great credit. The Nellie Peck has been named after Miss Nellie Peck, of Keokuk, Iowa, the acknowledged belle of that section. This boat will be commanded by Capt. Grant Marsh, an officer of large experience and pleasing address, and a general favorite with travelers and shippers. The first clerk is Mr. A. D. Rodefer, an officer who stands at the head of his profession. The Nellie Peck will leave for Fort Benton and way points on Saturday positively, and will run as a regular packet between Leavenworth City, Kansas, and Fort Benton, and has been engaged to carry supplies for the Government. In a word, the Nellie Peck is one of the most substantial and best got up mountain packets ever built, this being the universal opinion of those who have examined her. We are willing to send her out as a specimen of what we can do in the way of building a mountain packet. If Captain Marsh was not so modest an officer, he would certainly feel proud of the Nellie Peck.

THE Pensacola Express says that no vessel has ever been driven ashore in the harbor of Pensacola by any storm in the harbor of Pensacola, and no gale has produced a freshet.

THE United States mail packets on the slack-water leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. These boats, all side-wheelers, built expressly for the trade, are in charge of experienced and attentive officers.

THE fine passenger steamer Lorena, Captain S. Shuman, is announced for Cairo, St. Louis and St. Paul. She is A No. 1 boat, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Captain J. M. Vandergrift has charge of the office.

THE fine side-wheeler Juniata, Capt. C. L. Brennan, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Cincinnati and all way points. This boat stands A No. 1 with passengers and shippers, and deservedly so. Don't forget the hour, 4 P. M.

THE fine passenger steamer Shannon, Capt. Beatty, is announced for Evansville, Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind.

A MEMPHIS dispatch says: The levee at Bolivar, Mississippi, gave way, or, as many believe, was cut, Friday night, and all the rich planting country in the neighborhood has been overflowed, entailing great damage.

THE St. Louis Democrat, of Sunday, says: We are advised there is a petition awaiting the signatures of pilots and engineers in N. Springer's boat store. Congress is asked to order a reduction in the charges now made for renewals of licenses.

THE new and splendid Missouri river packet "Esperanza," Capt. J. P. Dunlevy, takes her departure for St. Louis and Fort Benton direct, on Saturday. This boat was built expressly for the trade, and offers superior advantages to shippers and passengers. Capt. J. B. Conway has charge of the office.

THE fine passenger steamer Brill, Captain M. A. Cox, takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville and Nashville. This boat is in fine order for the spring trade. The accommodations will be found A No. 1 in every respect. Captain Cox is well known as an experienced and attentive officer. The first clerk is Adam Jacobs, Jr., who will see that passengers are properly cared for.

MEMPHIS, March 20.—The river has fallen three inches here the past forty-eight hours. It is higher here than it has been for many years. At Helena and points below it lacks four feet of being up to high water mark. White river is becoming high. The Batesville came out from Buffalo City, 150 miles above Jacksonport, with a full load of cotton at $4 50 to $5 per bale.

THE Nashville Republican Banner of Sunday says: Captain Ed. Evans, ex-President of the "Balloon Line," is the popular Captain of the Kate Putnam, and leaves for Pittsburgh direct on Monday next at 12 M. Being an boutsider, she has no hagent, but shippers and the traveling public will find the obliging Billy Harbison in the office to ticket them through by the Balloon Line.

TUESDAY'S Cincinnati Enquirer says: Commodore W. F. Davidson, President of the Northwestern Union Packet Company, accompanied by Captain Abe Hutchinson, arrived here from St. Louis yesterday on business connected with the company. Captain Hutchinson will take command of the new steamer S. S. Merrill.

THE OTHER SIDE.—A writer in the New Orleans Picayune, signing himself "J. J. L.," infers all the way through a long letter, that the Katie beat the Belle Lee on her maiden trip. Captain Frank Hicks, of the Belle Lee, says that the Katie left New Orleans thirty minutes ahead; that he made her take the bank at or near Baton Rouge, to keep from being passed under way, and that at Natchez the Katie was so far behind that only her smoke could be seen miles below. How is this thus?

STEAMER R. C. GRAY, FORT SMITH, March 15.

To the Editor of the Cincinnati Gazette.

We arrived here to-day two weeks out from Cincinnati, bringing into Arkansas river the largest trip we have had this season. We found the lower portion of the river out of its banks, and down to about five feet over the bars from Little Rock up, but will be better in a few days as soon as the channel cuts out. Merchants generally are complaining of dull times and scarcity of money, which is entirely attributed to the extreme low price of cotton.

THE ST. LOUIS BRIDGE.—The Sunday Republican says: Last night the caisson of the east abutment reached a depth of one hundred and six feet, within nine feet of rock. The pressure in the chamber is forty-seven pounds per square inch. There are twenty men working in a gang, who are relieved every forty-five minutes. To-day the masons will commence to carry up the rock work of the east abutment. On Tuesday work will be started on the west pier. By the first of April all the frame work for hoisting stone, in building the arches over the levee, will be completed, and the approach piers will be rapidly carried up.

WARNING TO RIVER MEN.—A gentleman informs us that there are some eighteen boxes of nitro-glycerine lying in the river about one hundred yards from the West Virginia shore, between the head and foot of the bar at what is known as Cox's ripple, some four miles below Steubenville. River men should be on the lookout, as there is danger of it exploding when the river becomes low and the weather warm, by sudden concussion, such as being struck by either a boat, skiff or pole. Our informant says the nitro-glycerine got there by a skiff sinking at that place, in which it was being conveyed down the river.—Beaver Argus.

THE big side-wheeler, Charles Bodmann, from New Orleans, while attempting to ascend the falls, Saturday, caught on Willow Reef, and in sparring her head off she swung around, head down stream, and her head stuck fast on Wave Rock and her stern on Goose Island. It is said she lies easy and straight, but will not be able to get off until the river rises. Her passengers were taken off by the Falls Pilot. Her freight was placed in the barge Petrel, and was towed to Cincinnati by the towboat Champion. The Bodmann has been unlucky at the falls. On her first trip she sunk the barge Red Stocking. On the second she got nearly over and was forced back by the current; and this, the third time, she has found a resting place for an indefinite time.

Management of the Snagboat Fleet.

The five boats of the snagging service in the Western rivers are now laid up at Mound City, preparing, we presume, for service this summer on the Mississippi and Arkansas rivers.

Judging from statements made to us by officers recently employed in this service, who are willing, if necessary, to substantiate them before an examining board, we are forced to the conclusion that this excellent service is not carried on with as much economy and general good judgment as might be observed. The Abert, Long and De Russey are the three serviceable snagboats constantly employed during the low and moderate stages of water on the rivers. They can jerk out from twenty to thirty trees a day each. The Thayer is a light craft, built for the Arkansas river, in which she has done some service, though not as much as was originally claimed for her.

We now come to the highly ornamental part of this service, the fifth boat of the fleet, really the flag-ship, called the Octavia. We understand that she was at one time called a dredging boat. Probably the only scooping she has ever accomplished has been out of the government coffers, at the rate of $400 per day, while under way, as on pleasure trips from St. Louis to New Orleans. The original cost to the Government of the Octavia was $40,000, and probably that much more has been expended on her since her purchase. Major Luter, of the United States Engineers, who has been in command of the fleet for two or three years past, uses her in proceeding from one to the other of the four other boats, issuing orders and superintending the work. To the hard-handed men of this snag-jerking trade the Octavia is known as the Government pleasure-boat, with a pay-roll of $50 per day, and using about $300 worth of coal each day, while under way "to New Orleans to lay in some tropical fruits," for instance. Before the war, when the fleet was larger than at present, no such steam yacht was deemed necessary. In those days Colonel Long and Captain Russell managed to get around by regular means of travel, and superintended the work at about one-eighth the present cost of that portion of the service, and to see that the work was well done. To be sure it is recorded that the Octavia did, once upon a time, tie to a snag and pull it out with her capstan, and that the crew did a day's service in felling trees that were likely to become snags; but beyond these few hours of service, practical snagging men cannot see that the Government ever had any return for the expenditure of $400 per day on the Octavia. These men furthermore claim that the service is not properly handled, that, as in Captain Russell's time, there should be some practical Western river man at the head of the business.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

A Bitters WITHOUT ALCOHOL OR SPIRITS of any kind, is Different from all others. It is composed of the pure juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS and BARKS, (or, as medically termed, Extracts), the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medical virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use; they cannot make drunkards, and cannot, under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme Bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each Bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the Bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasing to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1 50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medical preparation should contain none but the best ingredients, and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

The Whole Supreme Court of Pennsylvania Speak for These Remedies.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, at present Member of Congress from Philadelphia, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly. GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

HON. WM. F. ROGERS, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, New York.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, BUFFALO, June 22, 1869.

I have used "Hoofland's German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects. WM. F. ROGERS.

HON. JAMES M. WOOD, ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

WILL CURE EVERY CASE OF

MARASMUS,

OR WASTING AWAY OF THE BODY.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S

OR

SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS,

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, }
Washington, February 28, 1871. }

Public Notice is hereby given that books will be opened on the 6TH DAY OF MARCH NEXT, in this country and in Europe, for Subscription to the National Loan, under the act approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An Act to Authorize the Refunding of the National Debt," and the act in amendment thereof, approved January 20, 1871.

The proposed Loan comprises three classes of Bonds, namely:

First. Bonds to the amount of Five Hundred Millions of Dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after ten years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of five per cent. per annum.

Second. Bonds to the amount of Three Hundred Millions of Dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after fifteen years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of four and a half per cent. per annum.

Third. Bonds to the amount of Seven Hundred Millions of Dollars, payable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after thirty years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Subscriptions to the Loan will have preference in the following order, namely:

First. Subscriptions that may be first made for five per cent. Bonds to the amount of Two Hundred Millions of Dollars; of which there will be reserved, for twenty days one-half for subscribers in this country and one-half for subscribers in foreign countries.

Second. Subscriptions for equal amounts of each class of Bonds.

Third. Subscriptions for equal amounts of Bonds bearing interest at the rate of four and a half per cent., and of Bonds bearing interest at the rate of five per cent.

Fourth. Subscriptions for any five per cent. Bonds that may not be subscribed for in the preceding classes.

When a subscription is made, the subscriber will be required to deposit two per cent. of the amount thereof in coin or currency of the United States, or in bonds of the class to be exchanged, to be accounted for by the Government when the new bonds are delivered; and payment may be made either in coin or in bonds of the United States known as FIVE-TWENTY BONDS, at their par value.

The coin received in payment will be applied to the redemption of Five-twenty bonds, and the debt of the United States will not be increased by this loan.

The Bonds will be registered or issued with coupons, as may be desired by subscribers. Registered Bonds will be issued of the denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000; and Coupon Bonds of each denomination except the last two. The interest will be payable in the United States, at the office of the Treasurer any Assistant Treasurer, or Designated Depository of the Government, quarterly, on the first days of February, May, August and November, in each year.

The Bonds of the several classes aforesaid, and the interest thereon, are exempt from the payment of all taxes or dues of the United States, as well as from taxation in any form or by or under State, municipal or local authority.

After maturity, the Bonds last issued will be first redeemed, by classes and numbers, as may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The Bonds will be issued at the United States Treasury, but the agents for the negotiation of the Loan in Europe are authorized to make arrangements with subscribers for the transmission of the Bonds to the agents through whom subscriptions may be received.

Subscribers in the United States will receive the new Bonds of the agents with whom the subscriptions are made.

In the United States the National Banks are authorized to receive subscriptions, and subscriptions may also be made at the office of the Treasurer of the United States, or of any Assistant Treasurer, or the Designated Depositaries at Buffalo, N. Y.; Chicago, Ill.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky.; Mobile, Ala., and Pittsburgh, Penna.

P. S.—This Department and its own Loan Agents are now ready to receive the United States Five-twenty Bonds and to pay the gold interest thereon to May 1, from which date the New Bonds will bear interest. A scrip certificate calling for the Bonds on the 1st of May will be issued at once in exchange for the old Bonds.

Offer for Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the

First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railway Co

These Bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold—the Principal at the end of Thirty Years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times, before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 5-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other Bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current prices for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from Banks may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan.

"After thorough investigation, we have accepted an agency for the sale of these popularly approved Bonds, and confidently recommend them to our customers and investors generally."

WASHINGTON.

The San Domingo Commission.

The Administration Will Not Press Action on Their Report Before the December Session—Forney Will Accept the Collectorship—The Adjournment Question More Mixed Than Ever, &c., &c.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22, 1871.

The San Domingo Question.

The Navy Department received dispatches to-day from the San Domingo Commission, stating that they would pause at Key West only to take in the necessary coal, and proceed thence directly to Savannah or Charleston, whence they would come here by rail as speedily as possible. They will probably arrive here by Saturday night. If Congress is then in session, the report of the Commission will be sent in, and so placed before the country. It is stated the Administration will make no effort to press any action on the subject before next December, but leave the information furnished by the Commissioners to work its own effect. It is understood here that one point the forthcoming report will touch upon will be to vindicate the Executive from any suspicion of corrupt motives in favoring annexation.

Forney Will Accept the Collectorship.

It is stated on very good authority here to-night, that after all Forney will accept the position tendered him by the President as Collector of the Port at Philadelphia. His name was sent to the Senate to-day, and will be acted upon favorably without the usual reference to a committee.

Darien Ship Canal Treaty.

The Senate Foreign Affairs Committee to-day agreed to postpone action on the Darien Ship Canal treaty until it has more information upon which to act, and will therefore await the report of the expedition already sent there.

The Adjournment Question

is more mixed to-night than ever. The action of the Senate to-day, sustaining the caucus programme, is regarded by the friends of stringent Ku-Klux measures as foreshadowing at least a session of Congress until some bill of that character can be agreed upon. It is asserted that no matter what report the Judiciary Committee may make, the Senate will so amend the same that the object will finally be accomplished. The vote that sustained Anthony's resolution to-day is relied upon to vote against any proposition for adjournment before the Ku-Klux bill is perfected.

REVOLUTION.

Spirit of the Insurgent Press.

Circular of President Thiers.

Lyons, Marseilles and Bordeaux Undisturbed.

Spirit of the Insurgent Organ.

PARIS, March 22, via LONDON.—The Official Journal of the insurgents says the Central Republican Committee are unable to come to an understanding with the Mayors, and are compelled to proceed with the elections without their co-operation. The elections are postponed until to-morrow, when they will be held under the superintendence of an electoral commission appointed by the Central Committee.

The Commander-in-chief of the National Guards has appointed Raoul D'Abusson Chief General of Staff; Colonel Valigranne, Commandant of the Hotel de Ville, and Colonel Dardelli, Commandant of the Tuileries.

An editorial in the same paper seeks to prove that the Assembly now sitting at Versailles is legally incomplete, on the ground that the elections of some of its members were vitiated by foreign occupation and pressure. The Chamber is described as narrow minded, exclusive and rural.

The article continues: On Paris devolves the necessity of compelling respect for the sovereignty of the people. She must see to it that she is not separated from the provinces, and that the provinces are not separated from each other. She must be the capital of France. It is unquestionably her right to proceed with the election of a Communal Council. The Central Republican Committee has taken wise and indispensable measures to prepare for the establishment of Communal Councils and for the election of all chief officers of the National Guard by the members. A paragraph also appears in the insurgent organ, under the title "advertisement," stigmatizing the resolutions adopted at the meeting of the editors of the Paris press, and published in several journals yesterday, as a direct provocation to disobedience to the Government's decrees, and an encroachment on the sovereignty of the people. Warning is given that while the Central Republican Committee intends to respect the liberty of the press, it is determined to have the decision of the people respected, and will permit no incitement to disobedience. A repetition of the offense will be severely punished.

Thiers Issues a Circular to the Prefects—Stability of the Government—Appointment of Prefects.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—President Thiers has sent another circular to Prefects of Departments informing them that advices received by the Government from all the provinces are reassuring, and that attempts to create disorders have everywhere failed. In Paris the citizens are organizing for the suppression of sedition. An army now numbering 45,000 protects the Government and Assembly at Versailles, which are rapidly becoming masters of events.

A proclamation is about to be issued warning the insurgents to lay down their arms.

Lyons, Marseilles and Bordeaux, where troubles were anticipated, remain tranquil. These official representations cannot be doubted. The Government is hourly growing stronger, backed by the Assembly and supported by the country, with a majority of the citizens of Paris really in its favor, and surrounded by a constantly increasing army, it is already formidable and begins to inspire a wholesome fear of its power. New Prefects have been appointed for eighteen departments.

Progress of the Surveying Expedition—All Well and Confident of Success—Affairs in Central America.

ASPINWALL, March 18, via KINGSTON.—The United States steamer Nipsic arrived on the 8th from Ottrira river. The advance party of the expedition were near the summit of the elevation, which is less than two hundred feet. All were well and confident of success. The survey will probably be completed by May 1st.

Honduras has formally declared war against San Salvador. The misunderstanding, it is not likely now, can be arranged.

President Medina has issued a decree suspending the operation of treaties with San Salvador, until that country is disposed to observe them. If war ensued, President Medina says San Salvador must assume the responsibility, and intimates to foreigners that if damage is done to the railroad, San Salvador will be the cause.

On the morning of the 16th inst., near Johnson's Shoals, Putnam county, a band of thieves, three in number, made a most brutal attack upon Peyton Turley and wife, and after beating their heads with an ax helve, almost into a jelly, began searching trunks, &c., and found some $100 or $150 which they took and left. The parties were white, but had themselves painted black. Mr. and Mrs. Turley are sixty-nine and sixty-eight respectively, and both have been in feeble health for a long while. Hopes are entertained by the physicians in attendance that both may possibly recover. A little grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Turley, aged four years, who was present when the attack was made upon the old people, declared that the man who "beat his grandpa and grandma was Dick West." This suspicion led to the issue of a warrant for West, and he and a man named Lane were found together in the mountains. Both were arrested and confined in the jail at Winfield. A man named Rogers, residing on Long Run, near Central Station, Doddridge county, while at work in a field on his farm, was shot by a man concealed in a hollow stump not far distant. The ball struck Rogers's left arm and passed through his body. After this first act in the drama, Rogers started towards his home, and had gone about one hundred yards when he fell from exhaustion. The assassin, it appears, followed in pursuit, and coming up to the prostrate man, shot him again with a revolver—holding the pistol so near his face that his whiskers were partially burned off. The second ball passed entirely through the wounded man's head, killing him instantly. Suspicion was at once attached to a party residing in that neighborhood, but no arrests had been made at last accounts. Mr. Rogers is represented to have been a peaceful and well disposed citizen. The First Iron Master of Pittsburgh.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

As there has been considerable interest gotten up on the subject of the early history of our city and its first settlers by articles recently published in several of our papers, perhaps it would not prove uninteresting to give your readers a few facts in the history of the first iron master of the "Iron City."

George Anshutz, many of whose decendants are still amongst us, built and run a blast furnace in 1790, near what is now known as Shady Side Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, in the Twentieth ward. This was six years before Dunbar furnace, in Fayette county, was built, which claims to have been the first furnace west of the Allegheny mountains. All the old inhabitants of East Liberty still remember the old furnace stack, which stood until a comparatively recent date.

When this furnace was built, it was supposed there was iron ore in the immediate neighborhood in sufficient quantities to afford a supply, but this expectation was not realized. It was then brought down the Allegheny river from near the Kiskiminetas, but this proved too expensive, when, after running the furnace three years, it was abandoned.

Mr. Anshutz then removed to Huntingdon county, in this State, and built the first furnace in the then undeveloped Juniata iron region. This was in 1795. A full account of this enterprise may be seen in the Huntingdon Gazette, of October 31, 1832.

Pittsburgh being the natural market for the iron of this region, it came here, and was the first tributary of the great staple that has made our city what it is, and so justly entitles her to be called the "Iron City."

Could the vision of any one, as he stood beside the little furnace on Denny's run, and that abandoned as a hopeless enterprise, by the utmost stretch of the imagination have ever grasped the extent of the iron business of our present city?

And it would appear from the search now making for sites for new furnaces in and around the city, that the business was yet in its infancy. Pittsburgh is so favorably situated for making iron, that we need never fear losing our cherished name of the "Iron City."

Two BROTHERS in Providence, living about five hundred feet apart, have established communication between themselves in a somewhat novel manner. An ordinary half-inch gas pipe has been laid underground, terminating in the front halls of the houses, in each end of which is a whistle, such as is used in speaking tubes. They have a code of common sentences, numbered from one to thirty, and can thus converse easily. Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 are called by as many short whistles, No. 5 by a long whistle, No. 6 by a long and short whistle, No. 10 by two long whistles, etc. The distance seems to be no obstacle, as with an ordinary effort the whistle is heard distinctly in any part of the house, and the owners express the opinion that it might be successfully used for ten times the distance, or even more. As the efficiency of the common speaking-tube is limited to from 200 to 250 feet, this plan may be made of practical use.

A St. Petersburg correspondent writes to the Clarion Democrat: The oil development is coming up the Clarion river, toward St. Petersburg fast. David Shoup sold five and a half acres of land for $1,400, just below town, and leases are being taken all around the same locality.

The French Relief Concert.

To-night, be it remembered, Prof. Tetedoux, assisted by a large number of the most accomplished amateurs in the city, will give a concert at Library Hall for the benefit of the sufferers in France. Prof. Tetedoux has given a number of concerts in this city for charitable purposes, all of which are among our pleasant memories. The programme for this evening is a brilliant one, and will afford rare enjoyment. Following is a partial list of those who are to participate: Mrs. C. C. Mellor, Prof. Guenther, Miss Inez Kennedy, Miss Kate Northam, Miss Annie Houston, Miss Annie Miller, Mrs. Maria Leamire, Messrs. G. Siegeman, J. G. McCandless, W. B. Edwards, P. Rahme, J. Manning, C. C. Mellor, W. Guenther, P. Zimmerman, E. Rhinehardt, E. R. Diehl, R. E. Breed, O. Oestreich, P. Sella, A. W. and T. F. Straub, L. J. Brecht, A. W. Kredel, W. Saffer, M. Roe and Mr. Koch. Let the house be crowded.

The Peace Jubilee.

Last evening, a meeting composed of delegates from the German lodges and singing societies of this city, convened at Turner's Hall, for the purpose of making arrangements for the holding of a grand peace jubilee. A committee on resolutions was appointed, who reported a series of resolutions fixing the time of the jubilee on the first day of May. A procession will be had on that day, and at the close of the procession, a grand festival will be held. The place for the holding of the festival has not yet been designated. A committee of arrangements was also appointed, after which the meeting adjourned.

The Singer.

So much has been said in a general way of the superiority of the Singer Sewing Machine over its rivals that we propose to give, in detail, some of the points in which it excels:

First—It is a combination of all the advantages of other machines, avoiding their defects.

Second—It has a tension that will admit of any changes of needle, thread or goods, without adjustment. It is really self-adjusting.

Third—It has less machinery than any other lock-stitch machine in the market, and requires no regulating or adjusting whatever.

Fourth—It has the shortest needles, which cannot well be set wrong, and which are perfectly straight.

Fifth—It requires no taking apart or lifting from the table to oil or clean.

Sixth—The length of stitch can be changed without reaching in among the machinery, endangering and oiling the hands, as is the case with all other shuttle machines.

Seventh—All other lock stitch machines require that the under thread be rewound from the spool on to a bobbin; a tedious process requiring considerable skill. If you have a Singer, you can buy your thread ready wound on wooden bobbins as cheaply as though you purchased the common spools and rewound.

Eighth—All the movable parts are made of highly polished steel.

Ninth—Its attachments for hemming, felling, &c., are thoroughly practical, and require as little skill to use them as is necessary to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Persons who first examine the Singer cannot be induced to purchase any other kind.

It costs nothing to see the Singer in operation. It is sold on as favorable terms as any machine in the market, by Morton & Straw, No. 20 Sixth street.

A Work of Art.

Messrs. By the arrangements which this firm have made, they are prepared to gild entire sets of china and stoneware in the highest and most satisfactory style of the art, and they will warrant it to wear for years. Monograms and crests are worked on family and society sets, and judging from the number done and those yet to do, this will be a great feature in their business. They execute the above on sets, in colors, gold or any desired color. A feature of this kind has long been wanted in this city, and our citizens, and those who appreciate all that is beautiful and neat, should not fail to call on McLain, Steubner & Co., No. 169 Smithfield street, and examine the samples of decorated goods which they have on sale.

PARKER'S LANDING, March 21st, 1871.

This is to certify that my son, S. H. Parker, had his life insured in the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York, for the sum of $10,000, and the policy was promptly paid to me when the application was properly made.

I take pleasure in recommending this company, (which is represented in Pittsburgh by their agent, W. F. Wooldridge), to the confidence of the public, knowing as I do that its affairs are properly conducted and that it is a perfectly reliable institution.

FULLERTON PARKER.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Of the whereabouts of a person by the name of Francis Bassett, an Englishman by birth. When last heard from he was employed as a deck hand, on a boat plying between Pittsburgh and Monongahela City. He is about five feet seven inches, and black hair. Any one knowing the whereabouts of the said Bassett will confer a great favor by communicating the same to Elizabeth Bassett, [illegible], Luzerne county, Pennsylvania.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Pittsburgh showed its appreciation of Mr. J. N. Gotthold as an artist by giving him a large audience at his benefit, last night. Many of Mr. G.'s personations are altogether excellent, while few fall to the mediocre. The entertainment last night was an enjoyable one, and every one present went away pleased.

This evening the door tenders, ushers and other attaches of the new theater are to have a benefit, and present a meritorious programme, made up of the "Gunmaker of Moscow," the drama of "Robert Macaire," and violin solos by the charming infant Americus. The beneficiaries are as indispensable to the public as to the theater, and deserve well for their uniform attention and care for the comfort of play-goers.

OPERA HOUSE.—This evening, those inimitable pantomimists, Maffit and Bartholomew, are to appear in the comic pantomime of "The Clown's Frolics," which abounds in tricks and funny situations. The star company will also appear in a number of new and novel acts.

VARIETIES.—The Alhambra ballet troupe appear to-night in the "Black Crook" ballet, and the "Girls of the Period." Charley Howard, Harrigan and Hart, and twenty or thirty other variety stars give new and pleasing acts.

ALLEGHENY.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

THE Board of Directors of the Poor, will pay their monthly visit to the Poor Farm to-morrow morning. They will leave on the 9:20 A. M. train, and return in the afternoon.

MARY E. WAGNA appeared before the Mayor yesterday, and lodged complaint against her husband, Joseph Wagna, for desertion. The parties were married in 1859, and lived together about nine years, when, as was alleged by the prosecutrix, the accused deserted her. The police are looking for the alleged wayward husband.

Two young men employed respectively by W. E. Schmertz & Co. and Fahnestock & Birney, as traveling agents, named McGowan and Schwartz, started out on a business tour yesterday with a two-horse buggy. They had proceeded but a short distance from this city when the horses were frightened and ran away, dashing the vehicle against a fence, damaging it considerably and throwing the occupants violently to the ground. Mr. Schwartz received a severe gash about the face, but his companion escaped uninjured. The vehicle and horses are the property of Schmertz & Co.

A MAN named Henry Bauman recently arrived in this country from Germany, and boarded at the house of one of his intimate friends, Bernard Ital, in this city. All moved smoothly until a day or two ago, when Ital found one morning a mysterious letter in his friend's room, whom he never suspected would have wronged him in the least. He read the letter, which stated that he was in great need of money, and that he had taken his watch and a lot of clothing amounting to about one hundred dollars, and earnestly requesting Ital not to expose him as he would recompense him in a short time. Ital, however, having been deceived in the character of the man, and thus losing all confidence in him, repaired to the office of Alderman Bolster, and made information against Bauman for larceny. A number of pawn shops were visited by the Alderman's police and some of the goods recovered. The accused has left for parts unknown.

Reckless Driving.

John Henry Scharf, driver of an express wagon, yesterday took a contract to move a family residing in the Fifth ward, to Birmingham. In the afternoon about one o'clock, while proceeding along Ohio street, his horses became unmanageable and galloped up the street. The driver was under the influence of liquor at the time, and the horses turned of their own accord down East Diamond street, in doing which the wagon collided with the lamp post and upset, throwing the driver and two other occupants of the wagon violently to the ground and damaging the furniture considerably and demolishing the wagon. One of the occupants received severe injuries about his head and the other escaped with only a few slight bruises. The driver commenced to re-load his wagon, when officer Miller appeared on the scene, and pointing to the broken wheels and axles, informed him that it was impossible to use the wagon until it had undergone extensive repairs. The driver, however, persisted in his work of re-loading the fragments of the wagon, when the officer arrested him and brought him before the Mayor, charging him with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The Mayor fined him ten dollars and costs. A charge of reckless driving was also preferred against him before Alderman Bowden by officer McKnight, and he was again arrested and relieved of five dollars and costs. He then secured another team, and the moving was finally taken to its destination.

Sewers to be Built.

The work of constructing sewers in this city has commenced in good earnest as spring has now fairly opened, and the weather is favorable for outside work. Contractors are now busily engaged in completing sewers commenced last year, and the following sewers have already been ordered and will be contracted for soon:

No. 1, extending from the present terminus of the main sewer along the line of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway to the west end of Preble street, Sixth ward. Seven hundred feet will be six and a half feet in diameter; thirteen hundred feet five and a half feet in diameter, and one hundred feet three feet in diameter.

No. 2 comprises about three hundred and fifty feet of circular brick, three feet in diameter, extending from Park Way, on Sandusky street to Canal street.

No. 3 will embrace a sewer extending along River street, from Main to Butler, in the Eighth ward, a distance of six hundred and fifty feet. This will be of brick, and three feet in diameter.

No. 4 will be laid on Beech street, from Allegheny to Grant avenue, a distance of six hundred and seventy-five feet. It will be of pipe eighteen inches in diameter.

THE Secretary of the Directors of the Poor, Mr. McGonnigle, yesterday sent a young woman named Catharine Grace Brown, to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital at Dixmont. She had been found wandering on the streets a day or two ago, and was taken to the station house where she was kept until yesterday. She gave every evidence of being insane, but at times appeared to be rational. She states that she came from Ireland a year ago with her mother, and they resided at Washington, Pa. Her father was at one time quite wealthy, but failed, which caused them to leave the country. Her father, however, refused to leave. A few months ago she left her mother and came to this city, where she was hired out, but remained only a few weeks with one family, and was continually moving from one place to another. She is only twenty-six years of age, is well educated, and appears to have moved in good society.

MICHAEL GEYER, charged with selling liquor on Sunday, on oath of officer Woechler, had a final hearing before the Mayor last evening, and was held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for Court.

Valuable and Reliable.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" will be found invaluable to those exposed to sudden changes, affording prompt relief in cases of coughs, colds, etc. For public speakers and singers, and those who over-tax the voice, they are useful in relieving an irritated throat, and will render articulation easy. FINANCIAL.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.,

SECURED BY FIRST MORTGAGE ON RAILROAD AND LAND GRANT.

Safe! Profitable! Permanent!

JAY COOKE & CO.

Offer for sale at Par and Accrued Interest the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States Tax, and are issued of the following denominations, Coupons $100, $500 and $1,000; Registered $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000.

With the same entire confidence with which we commended Government bonds to Capitalists and People, we now, after the fullest investigation, recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad Bonds to our friends and the general public.

GOLD PAYMENT.—Both principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of Jay Cooke & Co., New York City—the principal at the end of 30 years and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum) half yearly, first of January and July.

PERFECT SAFETY.—The Bonds we are now selling are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property and rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which will embrace on the completion of the work:

1. Over Two Thousand Miles of Road, with Rolling Stock, Buildings, and all other equipments.

2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, to Puget Sound.

While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the Road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon a great national improvement.

THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interests of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times their control, as security, at least 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the Government is no longer a borrower, and as the Nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of DEVELOPING A CONTINENT, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security that:

United States 5-20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5½ per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and specie payments be resumed, they could really pay only 4½ per cent. or if in three years, only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.

Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax. $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62 00. $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold $80 30. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one-third, besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.

THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's Bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—223 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and a wise economy.

RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These Bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 1.10, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price.

BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others payable, principal and interest, at any of the principal financial centers of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from Banks may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this loan.

"After thorough investigation, we have accepted agency for the sale of these popularly approved Bonds, and confidently recommend them to our customers and investors generally."
